Lease-Lend Aid To Poland Authorized

Fair Enough

by

WESTBROOK PEGLER

Today I give you another chapter in the unfinished story of a selfish servant of the humble toiler who obtained an international charter as well as a whole sheaf, or deck, of local charters in the American Federation of Labor, acquired a racing stable and died about a year ago under bond for $275,000 to the United States government to secure an income tax deficiency and the pertinent penalties and interest amounting in all to $250,000.

Mrs. Julie Carrozzo, the widow of Mike Carrozzo and administratrix of the estate of that consecrated leader of the humble white-wings, garbage-handlers and pavement workers in Chicago, has carried the income tax case to the board of tax appeals where it is now pending. This legal action breaks the seal of confidence which normally protects the intimacies of the tax return except in the case of obstreperous citizens who oppose the politics of President Roosevelt and find themselves singled out, individually, for punishment. By carrying her case to the board of tax appeals, Mrs. Carrozzo has made available to the press as public documents all the data which the treasury department has collected.

This material shows that Mike reported a net of $50,681 for the year 1937 and $51,555 for 1938, thus admitting net income of approximately $1,000 a week for each of those years derived from the union racket and that, as an after-thought, he admitted and paid the tax on an additional $52,000 net for 1937 which increased his admitted net income for that year to $102,681, or a little less than $2,000 a week. On May 28 of this year, Mrs. Carrozzo paid $163,300, but under protest, toward the deficiency and penalties of $250,000 claimed by the treasury and the pending proceeding before the board of tax appeals in Chicago includes a demand for the refund of this amount on the ground that it was not legally due. Among the deductions which Carrozzo listed were losses incurred in the maintenance of his racing stable.

JAPANESE TOLD U. S., BRITAIN SEEK TO RULE

One Paper Gives Nipponese Set Of Rules For Air Raids

TOKYO, Sept. 4.—(AP)—The Japanese were told by one government-supported publication today that the United States and Great Britain were pushing rapidly toward a goal of world domination and another gave them a comprehensive set of air raid rules.

The foreign office-backed Diplomatic Review said British-American intention to dominate the world became clear after the Atlantic meeting of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill.

"The intention of the British and Americans is to burn up and exhaust Japan's natural resources and to threaten Japan by both economic and military pressure," the Review's editorial said. "The United States and Great Britain are strengthening aid to the Soviet, are putting pressure on Thailand and are urging the Netherlands East Indies and Australia to tighten the encirclement of Japan."

Attention to the use of Vladivostok as an entry port for material aid to Russia continued to be emphasized.

The newspaper Yomiuri said Japanese fishermen returning from the Siberian Kamchatka peninsula reported seeing two large Soviet freighters leaving for Vladivostok presumably loaded with arms and ammunition.

The cabinet information board's weekly report told home owners today not to pay attention to wild rumors concerning possible air raids on Japan. The report asserted that so long as the imperial navy and army functioned it was unthinkable that

GIRL SURVIVES 265-FOOT LEAP

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4.—(AP)—A 22-year-old girl, Cornelia Van Ierland, was able to smile today at her almost incredible fortune in surviving a 265-foot plunge from the Golden Gate bridge—a distance approximately the height of a 20-story building.

Thirty-four other persons had leaped from the lofty span into the sea since the bridge was opened in 1937, and all were killed.

She survived yesterday despite an impact so great her silk stockings were burst into shreds, both shoes were torn off, and a ring was ripped from her finger.

At the hospital she said:

"I had to jump. I couldn't help myself. I was standing there looking down and something just came over me. I couldn't help it."

How did she feel as she plummeted through space?

"I just felt numb. I guess I didn't think about anything."

The girl, tiny and dark-haired, smiled when doctors told her she not only would live, but would not be a cripple.

She has two broken arms, a fractured rib, a compression fracture of the spine almost between the shoulder blades, and severely bruised legs.

ARMY TRAINING IN CANADA TO RECEIVE HELP

Machine Guns, Sub-Machines, Rifles, Artillery Will Be Sent

FIGURES NOT GIVEN

Continues 'Policy Of U. S. To Assist All Who Resist Aggression'

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—(AP)—President Roosevelt authorized today the first lend-lease aid to the exiled government of Poland, permitting military equipment to go to Polish troops training in Canada.

"Polish troops are now training in Canada for action overseas," a White House announcement said. "Under the president's order, machine guns, sub-machine guns, rifles, artillery equipment, trucks and other supplies will be sent to these troops in the future."

The statement added that the president had "stressed the importance of this new aid to the government of Poland as a continuing expression of 'the policy of the United States to extend aid to all who resist aggression.'"

No money figures were given in the announcement.

Heretofore, lend-lease aid from the $7,000,000,000 fund approved by congress has gone only to Great Britain, China, and to Greece before the latter country fell to the Axis forces.

The president is expected to send to congress in the near future a second report on the operations of the lend-lease act. He also will ask congress for a new lend-lease appropriation which has been variously estimated at $4,000,000,000 to $6,000,000,000.

ARMY OFFICER URGES CAUTION

Poulsen Stresses Increased Importance Of Care During Maneuvers

With hundreds of soldiers pouring into this area and with thousands more expected, the increased importance of caution for civilians was stressed Thursday by Major Niels I. Poulsen, army representative here, in charge of land agreements.

An army of over 200,000 men is advancing from Arkansas into Louisiana in a tremendous maneuver movement that may extend over north Louisiana from the Texas border to and including the parish of Morehouse, the officer stated. Realizing the hazard of such a great influx of men, and the 40,000 vehicles which will accompany them, school boards have postponed the opening of schools in most of the area, Major Poulsen indicated.

The vast number of motorcycles, Hecho trucks, artillery, armored cars, cargo trucks, troop carriers and tanks moving over the highways create new traffic problems, the major observed. Army drivers will do everything possible to prevent accidents and civilians, too, must do their part, he declared. Motorists should not attempt, to drive through convoys or troop

CLOSER LEND-LEASE SCRUTINY EXPECTED

WASHINGTON Sept. 4.—(AP)—Representative Woodrum, Democrat, Virginia, predicted today that congressional committees would subject all future defense and lease-lend appropriation requests from President Roosevelt to a much closer scrutiny than in the past.

He said that with "definite experience to guide us," the committees would be in much better position to determine the actual need for new military facilities, equipment and materiel.

The president said Tuesday that additional funds would be sought to increase the nation's already huge armament program. In addition, he is reported to be studying a new lend-lease request of more than $5,000,000,000.

"I am confident that congress will be ready to provide whatever funds are needed to further round out the defense program," Woodrum said, "but we are going to inquire into the situation minutely, first on what has been done with funds appropriated and authorized; second, the needs for additional funds and third, if such funds or appropriations will be able to secure the required raw materials and manufacturing facilities to produce equipment."

Woodrum is chairman of the house subcommittees which handle both lend-lease and supplemental defense appropriations.

British Source Says Red Army Continues To Be Largest In World

LONDON, Sept. 4.—(AP)—An authoritative British source said today German losses in the war with Russia this far are believed to total about 1,750,000 and that Russian losses have been "from 2,000,000 to 3,000,000" in the bloodiest fighting in history.

This source, in the highest quarters, said:

"None can over-praise the Russians' conduct of the war. They are magnificent and proved the sincerity of their scorched earth promises by blowing up the Lenin (Dnieper river) dam."

He asserted that the British already are sending the Russians "all the airplanes we can spare and all the rubber they can use"—two of their most important needs.

The planes are being accompanied by ground crews and skilled aircraft engineers, this source said, but the Russians prefer to fly the planes themselves.

The Russians already are discussing the campaigns of "next spring and August," and said the British are confident the Soviet will hold out through the winter with devastating effect on German troops and morale.

The Russians now have 9,000,000 troops in action and soon will be ready to put in 4,000,000 more and have no need for British or American troops.

The Russian army still is the largest in the world, this source said.

EXPECTED CLASH OF ARMY UNITS DELAYED HERE

Advance Forces Of Red, Blue Armies Continue To Maneuver In Area

Advancing forces of the Red and Blue armies continued their maneuvers around Monroe Thursday, but the expected battle in the city did not occur. The bulk of the troops still have not clashed.

Units of the Blue army which have been within the city evacuated early this morning, and reportedly retreated northward.

Moving this way, advance guards of the Red army were on the outskirts of the city last night, but apparently did not contact the Blue army as was expected.

After "blowing up" the bridges here, Blue sentries were removed at midnight from the Louisville avenue and DeSiard bridges over the Ouachita river. Sentries left their posts, apparently to return to camp west of here, and immediately two truckloads of Red soldiers drove up and took command of the entrances to the bridges. However, this morning the Red troops also had withdrawn.

Although the bulk of the Second army forces had not yet reached north Louisiana, several thousand soldiers invaded this section and several tactical problems were completed here during the day.

Every Ouachita river bridge between Camden and Monroe, including two here and one at Sterlington, was "blown up" by the Blue, or Almatian, army. But that didn't deter the Reds, or Kotmks, as they are known in the mythical warfare.

According to officers of the invading units, the bridges were destroyed

3 SOLDIERS HURT AS AUTOMOBILE STRIKES HORSES

Henderson Cain, Gallion, In Dangerous Condition At Hospital Here

Three soldiers were hurt, at least one of them critically, when the automobile in which they were riding struck a herd of horses early Thursday morning on the Columbia highway some five miles from Monroe.

Private Henderson Cain, 23, Gallion, was in a dangerous condition at noon Thursday at St. Francis sanitarium, according to attending physicians. He suffered a severe skull fracture and multiple bruises and cuts.

The young soldier, a member of the 141st field artillery from Camp Shelby, Miss., is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cain of Gallion.

A sergeant, whose identity was not immediately disclosed, also was reported seriously hurt in the accident, but he was removed from the scene of the wreck to an Alexandria hospital.

Private John Parino, Bastrop, driver of the automobile, received cuts and bruises, but was not believed seriously injured.

The accident occurred about 1:30 a. m. when the three military men headed from Monroe to the Alexandria area where they were stationed during the maneuvers. The automobile in which they were riding, a Buick convertible coupe, reportedly was demolished.

THREE ADMIT GUILT AS GERMAN SPIES

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—(AP)—An 18-year-old German-born girl and two youths have admitted their guilt as Nazi spies as the government, pressing a new move against Nazi agents in the United States, obtained four new federal indictments and began the trial of 16 previously arrested individuals.

The girl, Lucy Boehmler, a native of Stuttgart, Germany, and now a resident of New York, Hans Pagel, 20, a native of Winstorf, Germany, now employed in a Brooklyn brewery, and Frederick Edward Schlosser, 19, a New York-born youth, all pleaded guilty yesterday to charges of conspiring to send vital defense information.

The three were indicted yesterday, along with Kurt Frederick Ludwig, 38, an Ohio native arrested 11 days ago in Spokane, Wash.

As the new indictments were being returned, a jury was drawn in federal court in Brooklyn for the trial of 16 other persons who were arrested last June in a spectacular roundup by federal bureau of investigation agents.

Three others, meanwhile, had entered guilty pleas to charges of being unregistered agents of foreign powers.

Miss Boehmler, a blue-eyed, attractive girl, was held in $10,000 bail, while Pagel and Schlosser were held in $25,000 bond each for sentence. The maximum penalty for the charges on which they are held is 20 years in prison.

GUARANTEE TO BRITAIN FROM U. S. PROPOSED

MacKenzie King Thinks Pledge Should Be Same As To Canada

SPEAKS IN LONDON

Says Still Wider Arrangements For Joint Defense Pending

LONDON, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Britain and Premier W. L. MacKenzie King of Canada both called today in diplomatic but strong terms for full United States backing in the struggle against Nazi Germany.

Addressing a lord mayor's luncheon in honor of King, Churchill declared that "no lasting or permanent solution of the difficulties with which we are now confronted * * * can be achieved without the full cooperation in every field of all nations which as yet lie outside the range of the conqueror's power."

Churchill linked his statement with that of King, who had preceded him and who, after recalling President Roosevelt's pledge to defend Canada, stated:

"Your declaration, Mr. Prime Minister, that in the Far East Britain would stand at the side of the United States is a sure sign of the deepening interdependence of the free world.

"A similar declaration on the part of the United States as respects Nazi Germany would, I believe, serve to shorten this perilous conflict."

In general applauding and echoing King's assertions, Churchill praised Canadian troops in Britain, saying while they had not yet had a chance to come to close quarters with the enemy, they stood "at the very point where they would be the first to be hurled into a counter-stroke against an invader."

(Boos and hisses mingled with the cheers when King addressed Canadian troops in Britain a week ago Saturday, and it was suggested then that

COTTON PUT IN LOAN CHANNELS

Farmers Who Believe Price To Rise Accept Government Plan

ATLANTA, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Much of the South's cotton apparently is going into government loan channels, although borrowing values now are under the rising market quotations.

Farmers who believe the staple will go well above parity price by next spring will take advantage of the loan offer, says A. L. Roberts, government cotton economist here.

Parity is the maximum the government will lend on 15-16ths inch staple cotton, 16.49 cents per pound. The southeastern rate ranges from 14.85 to 15.29 cents, depending upon living costs in the various sections. Additional premiums are added to the loan for extra grades and longer staples.

A farmer is paid 85 per cent of parity when he puts his cotton in government loan. When he sells his remaining 15 per cent equity, it brings the prevailing loan rate.

Futures averaged about 17.60 cents on the New York and New Orleans markets yesterday.

Agricultural Commissioner J. E. McDonald of Texas estimated that about half of the crop of the cotton

SCHOOL OPENING IN MOREHOUSE DELAYED

BASTROP, La., Sept. 4.—(Special)—Opening date of the schools of Morehouse parish will be postponed from September 8 to September 15, it was announced here today. This action was taken by the parish school board, of which C. E. Vaughan is president, at the request of State Superintendent John Coxe.

Information received from army officers is to the effect that it will be hazardous to open schools earlier than September 15 because of the army maneuvers planned here. It was further stated that by September 15, the hazard will be over and that schools can then reopen without further interruption.

Broadened Tax Base Approved By Senate

Would Set Exemption At $1,500 And $750 For Married And Single

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—(AP)—The senate approved today, 43 to 23, a proposal to broaden the tax base and raise about $303,000,000 in new revenue by lowering existing income exemptions from $2,000 to $1,500 for married persons and from $800 to $750 for single persons.

Latest treasury estimates show that the change, recommended by the senate finance committee, would bring 4,911,000 additional persons under the income tax structure. Because of various deductions, it was estimated only 2,256,000 additional persons actually would pay taxes.

However, the change would boost taxes of groups all along the income range, by making more of their income subject to taxation.

The house revenue bill retained exemptions at their present levels, and whether the lower exemptions finally are enacted will depend largely on action of a joint conference committee which will be named to adjust differences between the senate and house bills.

Senate action came after Senator La Follette, Progressive, Wisconsin, had contended that lowered exemptions would further reduce low standards of living in the bottom tax groups.

La Follette said that while he had suggested lower exemptions in the past he had not urged that they be cut below present levels. The exemptions were reduced to the present figures last year.

La Follette criticized the pending $3,679,800,000 revenue measure as one which "hits hardest the persons the least able to pay and lightest those most able to pay."

Among other provisions designed to raise additional revenue, the bill would lower existing income exemptions from $2,000 to $1,500 for married persons and from $800 to $750 for single individuals.

The change, which party leaders said had the solid support of President Roosevelt, would bring 4,911,000 additional persons under the income tax structure according to treasury estimates and would raise approximately $303,000,000 of revenue.

As a substitute, La Follette proposed higher rates and lower exemptions in the schedules of estate and gift taxes. He said these would raise $202,000,000 annually.

"That would be a loss of $101,000,000," he added, "but that would be a cheap price to pay if congress could assure the people in the lower income group that we are not going to attack them with a tax pincers movement."

Both Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, and Chairman George, Democrat, Georgia, of the senate finance committee said they had

SOUTHERN LUMBER PRICE LIMIT HIKED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Price Administrator Leon Henderson announced today an upward revision of the schedule of ceiling prices on Southern pine lumber.

The general effect of the revisions, Henderson said, is to raise the ceiling prices so that small lumber mills throughout the Southern pine area would be able to continue in profitable operation.

The original schedule, announced August 16, was to have been effective tomorrow.

Revisions in the complicated price tables are achieved largely through permitting allowance for drying and processing lumber. The charges permitted for these services range up to $4 a thousand board feet.

ARMY LAUNCHES 200-MILE RACE INTO LOUISIANA

75,000 Men Release Hold On Ouachita River North Of Camden

By Jerry T. Baulch

WITH THE SECOND ARMY, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Seventy-five thousand men of the Seventh corps relaxed their hold on the western shore of the Ouachita river and began a 200-mile race today toward central Louisiana to escape a ring of infantry, cavalry and armored troops rapidly forming around them in the Second army's war games.

To the north the Seventh corps' Almat army, the New York 27th division, abandoned a three-day stand north of Camden, Ark., and leaving a small delaying force, withdrew 20 miles south to Smackover. Even the "suicide" detachments fled from Camden late last night as the division shifted toward El Dorado, 17 miles north of the Louisiana line.

The 35th (Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska) division moved into Louisiana this morning ahead of the 27th, leaving to the New Yorkers the defense against the Kotmk 2nd cavalry division from Fort Riley, Kas., massed 30 miles eastward on the Ouachita. The 33rd (Illinois) remained in the Haynesville-Homer area in Louisiana, facing west for an expected attempt by the first armored division, now speeding from Fort Knox, Ky., to cut off the Almatian flight to Alexandria, Louisiana.

With the three divisions of Major-General Robert C. Richardson, Jr., attempting to reach safety south of the Red river, Major-General Clarence S. Ridley moved his Kotmk army in quick pursuit.

Pontoon bridges were built between Camden and Crossett early today and by daylight infantrymen were leading the way southward after the 27th. The movement apparently was to continue most of the day.

With miles of impenetrable swamp separating General Ridley's infantry force from his 2nd cavalry at Crossett to the south, the 12,000 men of Major-General John Milliken impatiently awaited permission to strike westward across the river.

Soviets Claim Hitler's Forces Are Brought To Standstill

(By Associated Press)

The battle of Russia is surging toward a climax in the four principal sectors of the main Russian-German front, on the immediate approaches to Leningrad in the north, on the front west of Moscow, on the railways and highways converging on Kiev, and on the siege ring around Odessa.

The struggle, now in its 11th week, has cost Russia losses of from 2,000,000 to 3,000,000 men and Germany about 1,750,000, said an authoritative British source who called it the bloodiest fighting in history.

The Russians said that the assault on Leningrad, now threatened on the north by victorious Finns and on the south by the Germans, had been checked but Pravda, Moscow organ of the Communist party, admitted that "the beastly, treacherous enemy is breaking through on the approaches to the city."

Inhabitants of Leningrad had turned out to build a deep, continuous defense line to meet their foe, determined, it was said, to turn the approaches into graveyards for the attackers.

Terrific fighting has started on the approaches to Kiev, capital of the Ukraine, with the Russians declaring the Germans repulsed by stiff counter-attacks. In one outlying village several German regiments were said to have sustained loss of more than 15,000 men in dead and wounded.

Somewhere on the indefinite front west of Moscow the Russians claimed their deepest counter-thrusts while the Red fleet, taking advantage of its command of the Black sea, was attempting to relieve Odessa by landing storm troops behind the German-Rumanian siege lines.

The severity of the struggle was pictured by German and Russian sources independent of the official communiques.

The German radio, sensing perhaps public dissatisfaction with uncommunicative communiques, appealed to the people today "to forego a complete and detailed description of military operations.

VOTE TO ORDER 2 IRON LUNGS

Equipment Will Be Complete; Fund Is Still Left Open

The special committee entrusted with the raising of funds for the "iron lung" for the E. A. Conway Memorial hospital, headed by A. N. Robinson, chairman of the local unit of the Louisiana Society for Crippled Children, met Thursday morning and voted to purchase an orthopedic instrument and equipment which will total $1,900. This "iron lung" will come from the factory at Boston, Mass., by express.

Also it was voted to purchase a portable "iron lung" to be used on the scene of any emergency which will care for the patient until he can be removed to the hospital and placed in the large "iron lung." The portable instrument is manufactured in Los Angeles, Calif., and will cost $540.

Mr. Robinson stated that the total cost of the two "lungs" will thus equal $2,440 and there is sufficient money in the treasury to pay for both. However, the express on the "lungs" will be considerable and also it is desired to have a fund set aside and allocated to any repairs for parts that may have to be replaced later on. For this reason the fund is still open and money will be gladly received at either of the two local banks and will be used for the purposes stated.

DAIRY FARMER INCOME BEST IN TEN YEARS

Wholesale Prices Go To Highest Level In Four Years Or Longer

By William Lochner

CHICAGO, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Keen competition for the nation's record milk production is giving America's dairy farmer the highest cash income in more than 10 years as well as boosting wholesale prices of dairy products to the highest level the consumer has seen in four years or longer.

Manufacturers of butter, cheese, condensed and evaporated milk, and fluid milk bottlers are competing on a high basis for milk and butterfat to meet the best export demand since the World war and a greatly improved domestic consumptive demand.

At the outset of the lend-lease program in March the government asked for increased diversion of milk from butter to condenseries and cheese factories to make possible large shipments of cheese and canned milk to England. Although diversion is increasing, butter production is at a record level and the government reports the output of evaporated milk and American cheese—also at record levels—is not great enough to meet all requirements.

Production figures for the first seven months of the year with comparisons of the chief manufactured milk products in pounds are:

	1941	1940
Evap. milk	1,787,821,000	1,592,043,000
Cond. milk	62,058,000	39,541,000
Amer. cheese	405,560,000	360,926,000
Butter	1,207,030,000	1,131,314,000

The dairy farmer's cash milk income for the first six months of 1941 is estimated at $888,000,000, the highest in more than 10 years and 18 per cent more than in the same period of 1940.

Butter producers, for example, in mid-July paid the dairy farmer 36.6 cents a pound for his butterfat compared with 29.5 cents a year ago; condenseries paid him $1.75 a hundredweight for milk compared with $1.27 a year ago; cheese producers were reported paying about the same price as condenseries and city milk bottlers were paying him $2.30 a hundredweight against $2.18 a year ago.

The consumer, however, is paying sharply higher prices than a year ago for butter, cheese, evaporated and condensed milk.

American cheese on the Plymouth, Wis., exchange, is 25 1-4 cents a pound, the highest in 13 years and compares with 13 1-2 cents a year ago; cash butter on the Chicago mercantile exchange is being quoted at 36 cents a pound, within a cent of the highest peak since 1937 and compares with 27 1-4 cents a year ago; the average manufacturers' domestic selling price of condensed milk by the case in mid-July was $5.20 compared with $4.80 a year ago and for evaporated milk $3.42 a case compared with $2.85 a year ago, both the highest price in six years or more.

BRITISH MAJOR'S SALUTE INCORRECT IN ARKANSAS ARMY

WITH THE SECOND ARMY IN ARKANSAS, Sept. 4.—(AP)—When Lieutenant-General Ben Lear, Second army commander, walked up to a group of soldiers at work on pontoon bridges they came to attention smartly.

One man with no identifying insignia gave the palm-up British salute.

An excited sergeant walked over, asked, "Are you a soldier?"

"Yes," was the meek answer.

"Well that's not the way we salute in Uncle Sam's army," the sergeant declared authoritatively.

"I'm not in the American army," came the reply. "I'm Major Morris of the 17th battalion royal engineers. I'm a British observer."

823 GIRLS ANSWER LETTER OF SOLDIER

FORT LEWIS, Wash., Sept. 4.—(AP)—Private Leon Kvetko is convinced the nation's girls are ready to do their part to bolster soldier morale.

Some one—he doesn't know whom—signed his name to a letter to a Chicago newspaper, complaining of loneliness. He has received 823 letters, most of them from girls who enclosed their photographs.

After acknowledging the first 200, Kvetko called on his buddies for help.

CAREY, OUSTED BY UNION, TO FIGHT ON

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 4.—(AP)—Although ousted from the presidency of the C. I. O. United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers union, 29-year-old James B. Carey promised today to continue his fight against Communism in union ranks.

Dismissing his defeat for re-election with the assertion "I'm arbitrary as hell—that had a lot to do with it," he vowed to press for a constitutional change giving union locals autonomy in setting up qualifications for their own officers.

After lifting the union from obscurity to a membership of 316,000 that made it fifth largest unit of the C. I. O., Carey was removed by the organization's national convention yesterday by a vote of 636 to 539. Replacing him was Albert J. Fitzgerald, 34-year-old motor repairman in the General Electric company plant at Lynn, Mass.

Carey originally was one of C. I. O. Founder John L. Lewis' key lieutenants but parted company with him when Lewis turned against President Roosevelt. Carey, national secretary of the C. I. O., has consistently supported Roosevelt labor policies.

His defeat came after he again voiced his militant stand against Communism during debate on a resolution opposing "any person who acts or works against the interests of the United States or of this union." Carey wanted to include specific condemnation of Communists, Fascists and Nazis but was defeated. Fitzgerald headed the resolutions committee which submitted the proposal.

DEMENTIA PRAECOX IN COLLEGES SEEN

CHICAGO, Sept. 4.—(AP)—An opinion that American colleges and universities suffer from mental troubles closely like dementia praecox and schizophrenia was given to the American Psychological association today.

James L. Graham, of Lehigh university, who made the assertion, said the American institutions were the best schools ever known, yet they had failed to prevent the worst crisis in centuries.

The well known mental traits of the schizophrenic and dementia praecox pattern, he said, include the following:

Refusal to adapt oneself to circumstances when a goal is too difficult; refusal to grow up; withdrawal from reality by simplifying the desires; regression to childhood ways; delusions; and occupying oneself with useless work.

In educational institutions, he went on, faculty agenda are often filled with trivial details; open discussion of controversial policies are avoided; unsatisfactory compromises become precedents; traditional habits are hard to change.

Also parliamentary rules are used to thwart majority decisions; influence is substituted for merit; desirable services are rejected because of fixed budgets.

Further, the institutions either have regressed, or not grown up, because they do not control their own policies or funds. In flight from reality they become preoccupied with indirect aims that shut out real events.

HENRY STANLEY KIWANIS GUEST

Hot Springs Chamber Secretary Talks On Defense Theme

The retailer has a great responsibility in educating the public as to trends in the retail price field, Henry Stanley told members of the Monroe Kiwanis club at their Wednesday noon luncheon at Hotel Virginia. Mr. Stanley is manager of the Chamber of Commerce at Hot Springs, Ark., and was the guest speaker at the luncheon. He was formerly associated with George D. Holland, local chamber secretary, in chamber of commerce work in Texas and was returning from Alexandria where he addressed the Kiwanis district convention.

Mr. Stanley took for his theme: "Retailing for Defense." He stated that many articles that are essentially required by the public will go to higher prices and he urged retailers to educate the public to the existing conditions.

The public will also be required to get acquainted with substitutes for many items, the speaker said. In the mechanical world, delays in obtaining parts for machinery may be experienced but this must be expected if the nation's defense program proceeds, Mr. Stanley said.

Visitors at the luncheon were: Kiwanian T. John, of the West Monroe club; Hubert Chandler, Representative D. Ross Banister, J. D. Hines, Henry Biedenharn, Jr., J. Birdsong, and J. H. Pickett.

The election of Ivy Jordan as lieutenant governor of the local district at the recent convention held in Alexandria was greeted by the members with interest as he has been active in the local club and has held a number of local offices.

A complete report of the convention will be given at next week's meeting, it was announced.

BEAUTY NOT SOLE CONTEST CRITERION

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 4.—(AP)—Beauty alone is not the sole criterion for the 43 dazzlers seeking the 1941 Miss America crown as they must also appear in talent contests.

Judging is based on appearance in bathing suit, appearance in evening gown and talent, girls being divided into three groups and appearing in the different divisions last night, tonight and tomorrow night. Miss America will be named Saturday night.

Winner over 13 others in last night's talent contest before 10,000 persons in Convention Hall was 18-year-old Miss Birmingham, Ala., in private life, Virginia Connie McGraw.

POLICE TO PLAN ANNUAL BALL HERE

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

INTERFERENCE WITH MORALE OF ARMY HIT

'Lace Panty' Tactics Of Outside Organizations Are Criticized

By Rice Yahner

WITH THIRD ARMY IN LOUISIANA, Sept. 4.—(AP)—The personnel officer of the First national guard division said today army morale was very good but declared it would be better if it weren't for "lace panty interference."

Lieutenant-Colonel Henry A. Bootz of the staff of the 45th division said he considered the 170 men absent without leave from the division was low, since there are about 22,500 troops in the unit.

"The morale buster was the hesitating and vacillating attitude of congress during consideration of the act extending the training period of federalized and conscripted soldiers," Colonel Bootz declared. "Now the men have found out what was wanted and they're taking their lot as they go. There will be better morale in the army if we just let it be the army and get rid of lace panty interference."

The 61-year-old regular army officer said much of the interference came from outside organizations and groups who sought to dictate army welfare policies instead of letting them evolve naturally.

Under the original induction order the 45th division would have been released September 15. Conversations with men throughout the division, however, brought from dozens the statement that "they were ready and willing to fight as soon as somebody tells us to."

Some of the younger men said they wanted to get out at the end of the year to go back to school. Others were just "fed up, since we ain't fighting." Older men with two or more enlistments behind them, seemed agreed the army is "good enough."

All men of the Third army resumed simulated battle today after a six-day lull in preliminaries to war games with the Third army opposing the Second, September 15 to 29.

Lieutenant-General Walter Krueger, chief of the Third army, will command the Fifth and Eighth corps, and Major-General Jay L. Benedict of Florida will command the Fourth. General Krueger also will direct the entire problem and will hold out the Second armored division to throw onto either side as the tactical situation demands.

DOG WHICH MADE 3 WORLD TRIPS DIES

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Jerry, a hitch-hiking hound that made the navy for three trips around the world, is dead.

Chief Petty Officer Harold Maxey found Jerry on the docks at San Francisco and took him aboard the U. S. S. Mississippi.

Months later a visiting admiral came aboard at the end of a globe-girdling cruise.

"That dog's been around the world," they told him.

He looked closely at Jerry.

"Um-hmm, twice with me."

Jerry retired to Kansas City with his master and spent his last years chasing stray dogs and burglars from the 3800 block on Wabash. Twice he routed prowlers and his toothless old age found his appetite for a good dog-fight undiminished.

He died a martyr to his taste for travel—an overland trip to California proved too much.

SIX RISE FAST

GOLDSBORO, N. C., Sept. 4.—(AP)—They were seeking funds for an orphan's home. All willing to contribute were asked to rise. Six men on the front row leaped up as if shot from a cannon. Their chairs had been wired for an electric shock.

Best friends were amazed in woman's improved looks... new energy...pep!

A marvelous change can be brought about by overcoming miserable digestive complaints, underweight, sluggishness and loss of appetite —all by two important steps—

Restore vital digestive juices in the stomach... energize your body with rich, red blood. Here's how!

If you are one of those unfortunates who have been ill, or have suffered with colds, the flu, worked under a strain, failed to eat the proper foods, or have been vexed by overtaxing worries... yet have no organic trouble or focal infection... and your red-blood-cells have become reduced in vitality and number... if your stomach digestion refuses to work properly, then here is good news for you!

S.S.S. Tonic is especially designed to build back deficient blood strength... to revive and stimulate those stomach juices which digest the food so your body can make proper use of it in rebuilding worn-out tissue. These two important results enable you to enjoy the food you do eat... to make use of it as Nature intended. Thus you may get new vitality... pep... become animated... more attractive!

Feel and look like yourself again

Yes, when you tone up the stomach and get its digestive juices flowing freely, you should enjoy again that old-time zest for food... stomach digestive miseries should vanish. S.S.S. Tonic also gives you the mineral matter in soluble and digestive form to restore your blood to its rich, red color... this makes for greater strength... color in your cheeks ... resistance against disease attacks.

Because S.S.S. is in liquid form it begins its work as soon as you take it. Make the S.S.S. treatment a part of your daily diet. You will be delighted with results. Scientific research shows that S.S.S. Tonic usually gets results. Thousands and thousands of users have testified to the benefits it has brought to them—that's why so many say "S.S.S. Tonic builds sturdy health and makes you feel like yourself again." © S.S.S. Co.

AXIS CHIEFS CONFER ON EASTERN FRONT

The War Today

By DeWitt MacKenzie
(Associated Press Foreign Affairs Writer)

The fierce counter-attack by the Reds along the center of the Russo-Nazi battle-front in the strategic Smolensk-Gomel sector is a remarkable demonstration of reserve power, and provides further sensational evidence of the great military strength which the world failed to recognize until Hitler launched his conquest, expecting to be in Moscow in six weeks.

The magnitude of the operation, which extends over a sector of some 200 miles, gives to wonder whether it represents the major offensive which the Bolshevists might be expected to launch at about this time, provided they had the stamina after the terrible hammering they have endured from the German war-machine.

A heavy attack in this center would be a logical development in any event, for the purpose of relieving pressure on the Russian right and left flanks, where the battles of Leningrad and Odessa respectively are raging. Marshal Timoshenko's offensive, however, has been sustained at full steam for close to a fortnight, and this might bespeak bigger things. Moscow reports that the Red troops have retaken 22 villages in 10 days, and at one point threw the Germans back 30 miles.

The natural strategy of the Red command at the outset of the war would be to fight a defensive action until the German lines of communication were greatly extended and the attacking forces were tired and weakened by casualties and destruction of equipment. Then the Bolshevists would seize the initiative—if still strong—employing the great army of fresh troops which reportedly have been assembled.

It looks very much as though the Bolshevists have been going all-out in this offensive. Progress naturally will depend on circumstances, but the Muscovites may be expected to develop this great drive as far as possible.

Whether this is the appointed hour remains to be seen. The Russians have been claiming that the invaders were nearing the point of exhaustion, owing to terrific casualties and continuous fighting. That the German lines of communication are vastly extended needs no further demonstration than a glance at the map.

As previously remarked, one of the purposes of this blood-letting in the center of the line is to relieve pressure at Leningrad where the position is critical. The Finns today announced that they had recaptured all of the Karelian peninsula, bringing them to a point 20 miles from Leningrad. The Germans claim to be 20 miles south of the city. However, the Bolshevists asserted that the Nazi drive had bogged down and that the fight had developed into an aerial conflict.

If the struggle for this second largest city of all the Russias does develop into a siege, we are likely to witness one of the greatest battles of its kind in history. In this connection I was much interested in the warning issued yesterday by a Japanese commentator about the strength of Russia's spirit.

This observer declared that the Russians have a fatalistic view of life which produces strong resistance and power, and that this is a grave question for Germany. That the resistance of the Russians is a grave problem for Herr Hitler there is no doubt, but personally I shouldn't put this spirit down to a belief in fatalism. Some Russians may think in terms of kismet, but the average Muscovite does not.

I should say that the bravery and determination which are sustaining the Russians now aren't the result of any fatalistic belief but represent that quality which we Americans rather crudely but expressively sum up as "guts." We have an illustration of what I mean in the battle of Leningrad.

Yesterday Moscow told a story of how the combined forces of the Red army and the people's army which is sworn to die rather than surrender their city, made a counter-offensive which drove the Nazis back three miles and ousted them from a strategically important town. That spirit isn't inspired by fatalism. It's guts.

IMPROPER CONDUCT DENIED BY MAJOR

LONDON, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Major Sir Herbert Paul Latham, 36, graduate of Eton and Oxford and conservative Yorkshire member of the house of commons, pleaded innocent before a court martial today to charges of "disgraceful conduct of improper kind while on active service."

Sir Herbert lived in the modernized wing of a "haunted castle" in Sussex built in the time of Henry V and once deemed capable of quartering an army.

The prosecution indicated four persons were involved in charges against Sir Herbert. One charged concerned an incident in London involving an army gunner. He was charged, too, with deliberately driving a motorcycle off a road.

Sir Herbert was in the searchlight service.

APPOINTMENT OF DURHAM CONFIRMED

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 4.—(AP)—The state civil service commission has confirmed the appointment of Grady Durham, state budget officer since January, as assistant state director of personnel in the new civil service department.

Personnel Director Willard E. Parker said the department "was anxious to find a native Louisianian for the post," and after a canvass of the field "it found one eminently qualified."

Durham, who resigned as budget director yesterday, was born in Winnfield in 1907 and is a graduate of Louisiana college and Loyola law school. He engaged in newspaper work in Alexandria.

He said he had accepted the transfer to the civil service department because "I believe there is a challenge in civil service work in Louisiana. The success of the program depends on the amount of hard work put in now by champions of the merit system."

SAYS BRITAIN TO CALL UP MILLIONS

LONDON, Sept. 4.—(AP)—The laborite Daily Herald said today that "sweeping new plans for calling up millions of men for military service will be announced soon by the government."

No authority was quoted.

"This move is the first indication that vital new decisions on war strategy have recently been taken by the government arising out of developments on the Russian front," the Herald said:

The paper said that those principally affected would be men under [illegible] now in reserved occupations.

Britain now has approximately 4,000,000 men under arms.

6,000,000 Men Wrong

Can a million men be wrong? Six million men are wrong—the six million men who are out of employment are wrong. They have not been fitted for the work they can do best and which should be done and is to be done, or their attitude toward life is wrong, or they may be physically wrong.

While those six million men are out of employment, there is a shortage of skilled labor. If those six million men were skilled, would they have work? Yes, if they were skilled in the right ways and wanted work.

But after we have settled Germany down and this defense work is no longer necessary, could all men find employment if they were skilled? Now that idea brings out the truth that the affairs of a nation, like the affairs of a person, call for intelligent planning.

If we plant too much cotton and not enough corn, we shall have a surplus of cotton and a shortage of corn. If we train too many men for one kind of work and not enough for another, we shall have a surplus of men in one kind of work and a shortage of men in another. There should be judgment used in training men—as in planting crops.

Constant surveys of the employment needs of this nation should be constantly made. The minds of the people should be directed toward those needs and their steps guided accordingly.

The marvelous developments in science and the advances in research now just getting going, will open up new trades and professions and call for persons trained for those trades and professions. That calls for long-distance foresight and planning.

When a trade or a profession shows signs of becoming overcrowded, steps should be taken to prevent such overcrowding by directing persons from that trade or profession to some other line or lines, to which such persons could readily adapt themselves.

The prosperity and the happiness of our nation demand that our government give as much attention to the guidance and help of our people in matters of employment and training for employment, as it does in matters of agriculture and training for agriculture.

Manhattan
By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Here's a phase of river life in Manhattan that goes on untouched by time or by the shifting tides of war, revolution, changes in jazz styles or hat styles.

Broadway can migrate to 52nd street and Shirley Temple can grow to womanhood but the old Hudson River Day Line steamers with their churning paddle-wheels apparently go on forever, unchanging and uncaring.

It has been so for 115 years—since 1826—when old Abram Van Santvoord founded the line. Today, just as yesterday and a century of other yesterdays, these liners leave from 42nd street. . . . They go up the river for 150 miles. . . . The kids in Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, and Albany know them by sight and by name. There are farmers along the banks of this river who have spent a lifetime watching them drift past the river towns.

These days, it is a daily event, an excursion, and it will continue until mid-September. There is dancing and dining aboard. One "regular" goes aboard every Sunday morning with his two dogs for the ride. One man spent his entire two weeks vacation making the round-trip between New York and Albany. The line today is managed by the founder's great grandson, Alfred Van Santvoord Olcott. . . .

For our times-do-change dept.: Seven years ago this corner noted—"Maxine Elliott, for whom one of Broadway's theaters is named, visited New York recently, but she spends most of her time at her Chateau de L'Horizon at Cannes, a startling gray structure of African architecture which was saved from destruction by fire recently when British sailors in the harbor formed an impromptu fire brigade."

This column also mentioned Marguerite Clark, the actress, who had retired years earlier to domesticity as the wife of Harry Williams, wealthy Louisiana lumberman; and Pearl White, who began her career in films with the serial "The Perils of Pauline" back in 1919. . . . Well, Maxine is dead now, and so is Marguerite Clark and her husband, Harry Williams, and dead, too, is Pearl White. . . . Maxine's chateau no doubt still stands at Cannes, but there are no British sailors to form impromptu fire brigades now, should the need arise. . . . The British have fires of a more serious nature of their own to put out.

The newest pigeon story, according to Joan Blaine, the radio actress, concerns the papa pigeon who habitually took a "fly" every night of his life. . . . But he was always home by 6 o'clock. One night he went out and was gone a long time. By 8 p.m. mama pigeon was walking the coop and wringing her talons. She was on the verge of hysterics when around midnight, the old boy walked, or rather staggered in. He had circles under his eyes and he was out of breath.

"You see, dear," he explained. "I flew to Newark, and it was such a lovely day I decided to walk back."

Polynesian natives of Tahiti are said to be losing the graceful walk associated with their race. The reason: Too many are riding in motor vehicles.

When George Washington visited New Bern, N. C., he was entertained at a home which is now the town's public library.

Jimmie Fidler

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 4.—Lunched today with an exhibitor friend who cried into every dish, from soup to dessert, over MGM's decision to discontinue the "Maisie" series.

"The most dependable attraction I had," he wailed. "Good for a packed house and a fat profit every time—and packed houses are miracles these days! So what? So they quit making 'Maisies' in order to give Ann Sothern a chance at bigger and better roles!"

It seems to me there's considerable food for thought in his complaints. Just what roles can Ann Sothern play that will be "bigger" or "better" than those which were pulling millions of fans into the theaters, making exhibitors a profit, and firmly establishing her as one of the most consistently successful stars on the screen? Will she, or anyone else, benefit by the change? I doubt it.

At least fifty per cent of the "big" pictures being turned out today are flops, not only financially, but from the standpoint of audience appeal. Ann, therefore, in her quest for "bigger" roles, must expect her career to be true to the law of averages—a series of alternating successes and failures. And the bad pictures will hurt more than the good ones help.

I'll admit that playing one role, over and over again, may become monotonous. But it was a good role, no matter how many times she played it. And Ann Sothern might have been a far wiser girl had she weighed monotony against the personal fan following she was building, and decided to leave well enough alone. There's still a lot of truth in the old fable about the dog that dropped the bone while grasping for its reflection in the water.

The Hollywood Parade: Maxie Rosenbloom, alumnus cum laude. Mr. Rosenbloom, after noting the pride with which his friends displayed their college diplomas, made his bid for University club membership by having a discharge from Hawthorne reformatory copied on black sheepskin to adorn his study wall. . . . Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Good Samaritan. Sir Cedric, deeply touched by the boredom with which all guests examine family portrait albums, personally posed for his own ancestors' pictures in a weird assortment of wigs, mustaches, beards and putty noses, thereby achieving a four-bell production. . . . Guy Kibbee, bald pater. Mr. Kibbee's natural sensitiveness about his lack of hair has been greatly augmented, since playing the "Scattergood Baines" roles in a heavy toupe, by hundreds of letters from fellow sufferers, all demanding to know what tonic has produced the remarkable change.

Heiring: The Lee Bowmans are on Sergeant York's roll call. . . . Sick List: Florence Rice's illness is dengue fever, a tropical ailment not fatal but extremely painful. . . . Stick-wielder: Darryl Zanuck returned from Washington with full authority to censor all Hollywood service films, no matter which studio makes them. . . . Teetering: The Dennis Morgans came close to the matrimonial edge the other day; she saw lawyers, but reconsidered. . . . Lowdown: I hear tests of actresses for the Maria role in "For Whom the Bell Tolls" are pure publicity; Ingrid Bergman is set for the part. . . . Cold Snap: Ex-director, now draftee, Garson Canin (Katharine Hepburn's heartburn) has been ordered to Iceland to film a government short on United States army life there. . . . Unhappy: Baseball fans and writers are protesting Gary Cooper as Lou Gehrig on the screen because Lou was left-handed and Gary isn't.

Our Children

A YOUNG TEACHER ASKS GUIDANCE

A letter from a young teacher asks for a word of guidance, something she can hold to this first year as she feels her way into her profession. "You have been teaching a long time and I am beginning. Tell me what to do."

First, like the children. Like them as they are; and no matter how trying they seem to be, keep on liking them. They will feel what you are thinking. You cannot hide it from them. They will know what you are and react to it. Then be kind; be sure; be firm.

Know what you are going to do every hour of the day, and why you are doing in the way you have chosen. He who leads children must have a sure step and a firm tread.

Know your subject. Keep studying it through the years. You are dealing with life, and life never is still. You will never know too much to teach children a little.

Reverence your profession because you are in partnership with mothers, and mothers are in partnership with God, the Creator.

Take these rules to your heart, hold fast to them and you will avoid making some mistakes that have wrecked promising young teachers:

Never ridicule a child. Sympathy is the basis of communion between child and teacher.

Never use sarcasm in criticism of any child. Children are sensitive and easily wounded, and "it is better a millstone be hung round his neck and he be drowned in the depths of the sea than that he offend one of these, my little ones."

Never label a child. Dull, stupid, brilliant, lazy, dirty, bad, are labels. Labels have a way of forcing a child to live to them and by them, and if the labels are debasing the children are debased, and if they are too lofty for reach, the child must fail.

All children are good. Smile on their goodness. Praise it. Leave the rest to education, training and experience, in abounding hope.

Never strike a child. Never shut him in a closet, or stand him in a corner. Respect him, suffer him; and by and by you will lead him.

Never deprive a child of recess. He needs relief and so do you.

Dismiss him as promptly at the end of session as you want him to report promptly at their beginnings.

Never, never refuse to allow a child permission to leave the room. Hold to this even when you find that he is abusing the liberty. When he is interested in work this will be forgotten.

Never order a child to carry home a note reporting his misbehavior. That is school business, between you and the child. Attend to it there and don't occasion an offense that would not be committed otherwise.

And, never—as you value your position among the children—speak disrespectfully of a child's mother, or her opinion, her order, her way. Bow to her superior position and you win the children, and their mothers.

Walk softly, humbly, before the Lord, for you are serving Him in this your service to children.

What to do, when your very youthful son gets his first serious crush? Angelo Patri can help you to deal wisely with this and other crises of parenthood. END OF THE TOURIST SEASON

IN WASHINGTON

By Sigrid Arne
(Pinch-Hitting for Jack Stinnett)

WASHINGTON, D. C.—This village's new airport is the best show in town, congress notwithstanding. It is said to be the most modern airport in the world, and it should be. Some half dozen government departments collaborated to build it.

They have concocted a majestic scene, but it's really the gadgets which get the crowds.

For one thing, weighing in the baggage has been simplified. It's done at the long row of desks where the air passenger buys his ticket.

The traveler steps up with his bags. He buys his ticket, and gives the information needed for the record of his trip—weight, phone number, destination, and number of bags.

Then the bags are lifted onto a low platform which flanks the desk. The platform is a scale, so immediately a little dial on the ticket desk swings around and registers the weight.

No More Bag Worry

Maybe the loud-speaker already is announcing the departure of the plane. The passenger pockets his ticket and forgets about his bag as he saunters downstairs to the run-way.

Two things are happening. His bag has been shoved backward from the scale onto two aluminum doors, flush with the floor. The doors swing open, the bag whooshes down a chute to the ground level onto a small field truck, and the truck rushes the bag to the plane.

The man's flight record is taking a similar lightning course. It shoots to a passenger control room, through a concealed tube where men rapidly sort the planes and passengers, making out a "manifest" for each plane. A "manifest" simply is a list of the people going on each plane, and the information about them.

From the control room the manifest takes another chute ride to the ground level where the pilot and stewardess are waiting for a copy.

Gadgets To Spare

Some thirty feet out stands the plane, tuning up to carry people to New York, Miami, Los Angeles and everywhere else. It stands over another co-ordinated set of gadgets which have been designed to service planes and yet leave the field clear of obstructions.

An iron lid opens, and out comes a big rubber hose that is inserted into the plane. In summer the hose sprays cold air into the cabin. In winter it sprays warm air.

Oil hoses, electric lines to the batteries, and even a telephone line come out from under other lids.

Room Service, Almost

The plane gets an "assist" in landing and taking off from a circular turn-table which is set in the concrete. The right wheel comes to rest on the table, which swings around easily and turns the plane. Object is to save wear and tear on tires.

Up in the passenger reservation room there is a clock that saves on brain wear and tear. It is fitted with silver keys that can be pulled out all around the face. Suppose you arrive 40 minutes early for your plane, and you want to eat, but also you want to be called five minutes before plane time. The clock is set. It turns on a red light, just when you want to be called. Your name goes on the loud-speaker, and you walk leisurely to the plane.

BATTLES HARD TO AID HER HUSBAND

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 4—(AP)—"I've come to find my man and help him," announced 24-year-old Mrs. Louise Causey upon arrival at the city hall, lugging five-month-old twins and a huge suitcase.

She almost collapsed after relating to Assistant District Attorney Ephraim Lipschutz how they'd traveled 600 miles from High Point, N. C.

"I sold the goat I had been keeping for milk," said the mother. "I got $7.50 and bought a bus ticket for $6.80. That was all the money we had. I was left with 70 cents and spent it on the way here to buy milk for the babies. But we didn't have anything to eat."

The district attorney's office provided food and lodging after assuring her of early action on minor charges against her truck-driver husband.

"If we get him out of his trouble," declared Mrs. Causey, "I'll make sure he gets a job close to home."

September 4, 1926

While August is regarded as the quietest month of the year from a business standpoint, the local postoffice receipts show a substantial increase. The August receipts of the Monroe postoffice totalled $8,579.07 which is an increase of nearly $700 over the figures of August, 1925, when the total was $7,906.75. Month by month the local postoffice is piling up, through its increasing volume of business, a strong argument for the construction by Uncle Sam of a much larger and more adequate postoffice building here.

Starting at sundown, September 8, the Jewish people of Monroe will begin the observance of the new year. The temple has been decorated appropriately for the event and services will be held at 7:30 p.m. and in the morning. The new year of the Jewish world is that of 5687.

Building permits last week call for the total expenditure of $19,600. Seven residences and one garage are included in the list. The largest permits are those of S. Mouton for a frame residence on Lover's lane costing $6,000 and of George Love for the building of a house on North Fifth street to cost $4,500.

The average service station price of gasoline, excluding tax, during May, 1941, was 13.11 cents a gallon. The average tax was 5.92 cents a gallon, including state and federal taxes.

MADE UP TO KILL

Chapter 30

Morris' Story

"AS HAS already been pointed out," Morris said, "I drove her from it."

"By forcing your attentions on her?"

"Not at all. I fired her for incompetency. She had a nasty habit of standing on stage and not being able to say a line."

Steve said, "Yes, because she was so terrified of you that . . ."

Morris' voice rose above Steve's. "No. Because she was drunk. On one occasion, the last, she wasn't even able to stand, she passed out on stage. We had to lower the curtain and have the understudy take over."

"That's a lie!" Steve said hoarsely.

Carol clutched at his shoulders with both hands, I could see that they were shaking. But her voice was steady.

"Yes, Steve, it's a lie. It's what he told the other managers in London about me. That's why they wouldn't give me a job, any of them. Don't listen to him, Steve."

Morris said calmly, "I told the other managers about you because I didn't want you to spoil their productions as you did mine."

"Go on, Mr. Morris, go on! Tell what you told them. Tell everything you said!"

"I'd rather not, really."

"No. You're afraid to. You're afraid in front of Steve, you know that he . . ."

Peterson said, "Take it easy, Miss Blanton."

She sank back on the couch trembling violently and Steve held her tight with one arm around her shoulders, his other hand clasping hers. Morris looked at the cigarette that he turned in his fingers as if it were the only important thing in the room.

"So you'd rather not talk about what happened in London, Mr. Morris?"

"No. I assure you it is as painful to me as it is to Miss Blanton and her young champion."

"Nuts!" said Peterson. "If I were you, Mr. Morris, I'd talk. And I'd talk loud."

"Very well. It seems my reticence has implicated me in a mess I'd hoped to avoid. So my story is this.

"I saw Miss Blanton, then Miss Gray, playing at the Royal Academy as she says, and I thought her a beautiful child giving a lovely performance. I cast her in Green Apples. When rehearsals started we were a happy group of people. The cast was a playwright's dream.

"But in six weeks it was turning into a cesspool. There wasn't a friendship left. My actors were behaving like a bunch of neurotics. My leading man and my leading lady hated each other. The lovely young thing who had been playing Haila Rogers' part attempted suicide. Her engagement to the young stage manager had been mysteriously broken. My character man, a fine old chap, had suddenly become a dipsomaniac. That made two in my company, including Miss Blanton."

Truth At Last

JEFF sidestepped in front of Steve as he started to rise. Carol sat rigidly, one hand covering her eyes.

Peterson growled. "Go on."

"The character man had been milked of every cent he had, and made a fool of, by my pretty ingenue. In those six weeks a brilliant young actress' career and love affair had been ruined by this ingenue's malignant slander. She had broken friendships, torn people apart with her lies and intrigue and ambition. That ingenue was Leila Gray."

There was a moment of white-hot silence before Carol, tears streaming down her cheeks, leaped to her feet.

"Now you see why I ran away, why I changed my name, why I've lived in terror of him! Now he's trying to wreck Steve's love for me, he's trying to break my life again!"

She turned to Steve, her chin lifted bravely. "I knew he'd do this, Steve. That's why I wanted to send you away. Steve, darling, try to forget all this, forget how horrible he is and all his horrible lies. . . ."

She fled into the bedroom. Steve stared after her, a bewildered, almost frightened look on his face.

"Steve," I said, "go to her. She needs you now. Don't stand there like that! Steve, why don't you go to her?"

Jeff said quietly: "Because what Morris said is true, Haila. All of it."

No one moved. Steve was still looking dazedly at the closed bedroom door and Greeley Morris watched him with anxiety. Peterson, the policeman, sat waiting.

I said, "No, Jeff."

"Yes. Don't you see that she's done the same thing to your company that she did in England? Only here someone tried to kill her for it, and that covered her up. Everyone was afraid to tell the truth about Carol for fear that it might throw suspicion for her attempted murder and Eve's death on them. Everyone but Alice McDonald. She knew what Carol was and she could speak. Carol hadn't given her a motive for murder. But when Alice told us you laughed at her. You didn't believe her."

"But you didn't either."

"It started me thinking."

Peterson said impatiently, "What has she done? And who did she do it to?"

"To Philip Ashley. She used the same technique on him that she practiced on that character man in England. In his room I found an I.O.U. for five hundred dollars. It was a silly game, he said, the I.O.U. was only a joke. But it wasn't a joke. It was real. And God knows how many more of them there were or why he was fool enough to have loaned her the money.

"Look at Tommy Neilson. She had him nuts about her, she took everything that Tommy had to offer and then she dropped him. She dropped him because she saw bigger game and that bigger game was Steve. With Steve there was wealth and position. No wonder she did everything in her power to keep the story of Lee Gray from coming out. That's why she was rushing the engagement and the wedding. She made him think that it was he who was doing the rushing. She talked about endangering his life, knowing that it would make Steve more anxious to marry her quickly and take care of her."

"But, Jeff," I said, "with me she was always . . . she seemed such a child. I thought she was my friend. And she was, Jeff! She never did anything to me."

"Haila, she's been using you since the moment you met. She made as much money from Green Apples as you did, but she's borrowed from you, lived here, eaten your food, worn your clothes . . ."

"But they were such little things! I didn't mind."

". . . and she drank your liquor. Didn't the amount of liquor that little angel put away ever puzzle you, Haila? But she was watching her step pretty carefully. She never wanted Steve to see her drunk."

Broken Man

I FORCED myself to look at Steve. He was hunched down in a big chair, his face blank with shock. His eyes seemed strangely glazed. I turned away from him to Jeff.

"But I . . . I can't believe all this! She couldn't have been so . . . couldn't have been what you say and at the same time seemed . . ."

Jeff said, "She was, Haila. She is a wonderful actress. Tonight when I announced that I had found Lee Gray the way she leaned forward and said, 'Who?' nearly made me think I was wrong. She told her fantastic story about Greeley Morris to Greeley Morris and never batted an eyelash. She lied to you about her voice the night the play opened, about everything. Think a little, Haila. It's true, isn't it?"

Steve stood up. Mechanically, he went to the table in the corner and picked up his hat. Without looking at any of us he moved to the door. We heard his heavy footsteps on the stairs outside. The door remained wide open.

Morris said suddenly: "I'd like to run along, Peterson. That boy. Perhaps I can . . . he's too nice a kid to have had this happen to him."

"Go ahead, Morris."

My brain felt muddled, foggy. There was a sharp, biting ache at my temples. I walked to the bedroom door and stood looking at it.

From behind me Jeff was saying, "All along I've known that there was some strange undercurrent, something I couldn't put my finger on, running through the whole company. And I knew that in some way it was connected with Carol. Everyone was too fond of her, too incredulous that a single hair of her pretty head should be in danger. There was something phony about it. I didn't know that it was because she was hated so passionately, and with such damn good cause, that everyone was leaning over backward for fear of being suspected of murder."

I turned at the sound of Peterson's voice. He stood in the doorway frowning.

"We've tried like hell to find a suspect," he said, "someone with a motive to kill Carol Blanton. I thought when we found Lee Gray we'd also get our suspect. Well, we found her. Before, we had no suspects. Now, as far as I can see, practically everyone in New York and England has a reason to kill her."

SEX TALK CHARGE FACED BY COLLEGE

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Sept. 4—(AP)—San Diego State college marshalled its faculty in superior court today to answer charges the school had sanctioned a sex lecture of such character as to bring unwholesome influence on a 23-year-old girl student.

The girl, Ann Marie Hansen, has pleaded guilty to manslaughter in strangling one newly-born child in April, 1940, and smothering a second last June.

She appeared yesterday before Superior Judge Edward Kelly to ask probation and her attorney, Edgar Hervey, produced statements claiming that a San Diego psychiatrist, addressing the college's health education class, had tacitly condoned trial marriages and extra-conjugal relations.

This, Hervey said, had tended to place Miss Hansen "off guard."

Judge Kelly immediately summoned Dr. Walter Hepner, the college president, and members of his staff for an explanation.

"I am morally certain no member of the faculty would say such a thing as this girl has reported," Dr. Hepner said. "Upon occasion a psychiatrist of standing is invited to address health education classes, and I'm reasonably certain, too, that the type of men who have contributed to our health program would not presume to take advantage of the academic courtesy extended to them to promulgate any such doctrine."

Testimony developed that the two lectures were given more than a year after the birth of Miss Hansen's first son and shortly before the birth of the second.

DOG HOUSE GROUP WILL INCORPORATE

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 4—(AP)—The Dog House Protective association—a haven for refugees from marital discord—has applied for a decree of incorporation.

Three hundred husbands want their recently-organized club to have an official status.

Its special aim is to console those men whose wives have consigned them to the dog house—or elsewhere—and to work diligently to get these men back in good graces. Asked for the formula used to heal marital wounds, Edward A. Morgan, the president, told a reporter:

"We just cry on each other's shoulders until we feel better."

NAZI SERGEANT SHOT IN PARIS

German Authorities Take Case Out Of Hands Of French Police

VICHY, Unoccupied France, Sept. 4.—(AP)—A German non-commissioned officer was reported here today to have been shot last night on a Paris street.

German authorities took the case out of the hands of French police and began a manhunt for the assailant.

An unidentified man was said to have opened fire on the German, an army sergeant, with a revolver in the busy east station section.

The victim was rushed to La Ribosiere hospital where his wound was considered not serious.

The bullet hit him in a fleshy part under the left shoulder. The sergeant, accompanied by his German fiancee, was nearing his quarters at the Terminus hotel in the Rue de Strassbourg when he was hit.

The commanding general of German forces in France threatened on August 23 to shoot French hostages in a number corresponding to the seriousness of the offenses against German authorities hereafter.

The threat was made after a colonel had been stabbed in a Paris subway.

Fernand de Brinon, Vichy ambassador to Paris, admitted later, however, that German reprisals were causing a bad popular reaction and said the Germans for that reason had withdrawn from their previous position and would allow the French to deal with Communists.

belt's biggest producing state is going into loan channels now. He predicted that 90 per cent will go into loans when loan papers become available.

He and Georgia Agricultural Commissioner Tom Linder are advising farmers to hold their cotton for 22 and 24 cents, respectively.

Alabama reported "quite a bit of the crop is apparently going into loan channels" and Mississippi had "surprisingly large amounts" labeled for loans.

President J. P. Chase of the Farm Bureau at Memphis, Tenn., said farmers gave him the impression that most of them are selling on the open market "since there is such a margin of difference now between the selling price and the borrowing value."

The government loaned $136,109,907 on 2,827,756 bales last year when the South produced 12,297,970 bales. This year's crop is estimated at less than 11,000,000 bales, although the New York Cotton Exchange figures the 1941-42 income will be $1,238,589,000, the highest in 12 years. Last year's income was $912,769,000.

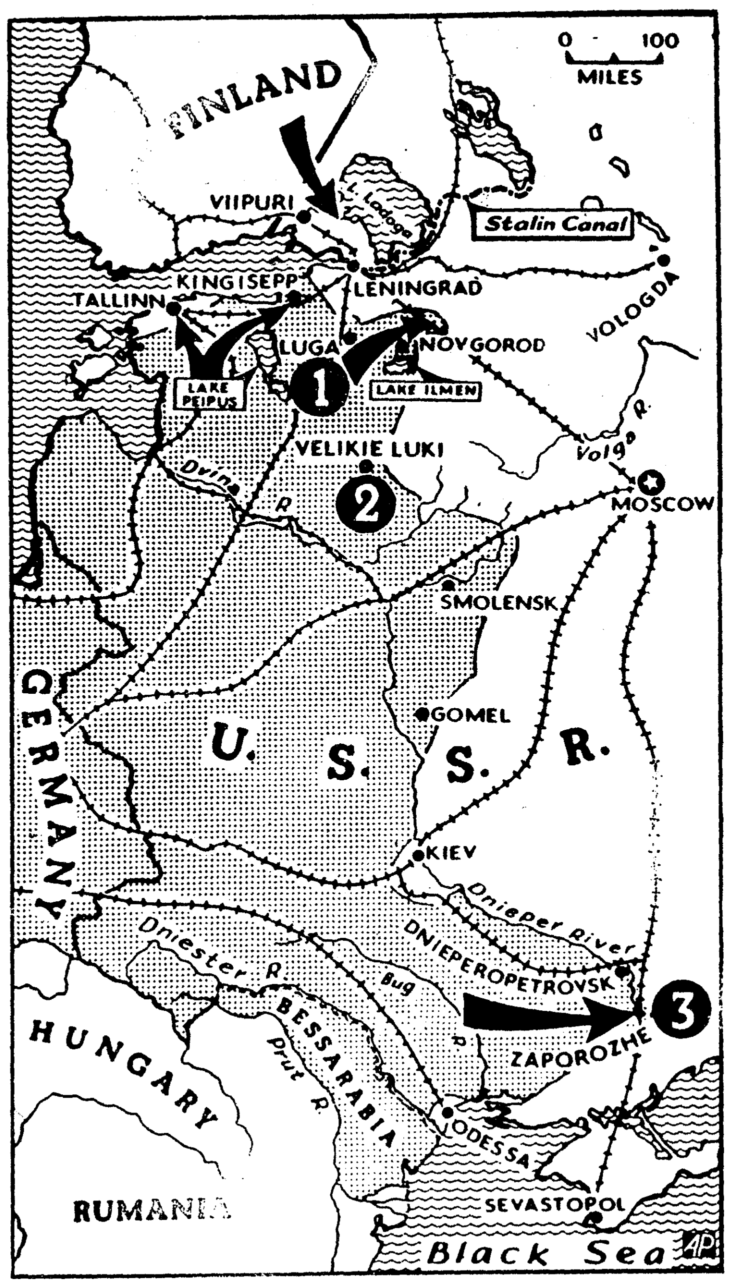
NAZIS REPORT CUTTING RAIL LINES



Germans reported their forces had cut the Moscow-Leningrad rail line (1) in the northern sector, where Leningrad is the objective of three-way pressure (arrows). Berlin also said their victory at Velikie Luki (2) had relieved Russian pressure on the central front. In the Ukraine (3), the Germans claimed to have entered Zaporozhe, a railway point, east of the Dnieper river.

STAMPS ADD TO FOOD IN AREA

$34,816.50 In Food Stamps Used In 10 Parishes During August

Expenditures for food in the northeast Louisiana area were increased $34,816.50 during the month of August through the federal food stamp program, it was announced Thursday by Lucius Hughes, area supervisor. The area consists of the 10 parishes of Concordia, East Carroll, Franklin, Lincoln, Madison, Morehouse, Ouachita, Richland, Tensas and West Carroll.

This sum represented the amount of blue stamps issued by the area stamp program office during the month. In addition, $39,170 of orange stamps were purchased from the government during the period, bringing the total amount available for food purchases due to the stamp program to $73,986.50 for August.

Participating in the northeast Louisiana area stamp program during the month were 5,574 cases, representing with their families 16,931 persons. Those participating represented 73 per cent of the 23,066 persons in the area eligible to receive stamps during August.

Since the stamp plan has been in operation, $161,420.50 in blue stamps have been issued in the area, augmenting regular food expenditure for the area by that amount.

Amount of blue stamps issued per person during August averaged $2.06.

WEST MONROE FIRE DESTROYS HOUSE

A negro dwelling at 1101 Natchitoches street, West Monroe, was destroyed by fire shortly after 8:30 o'clock, Thursday morning.

The house was occupied by two negroes, who lived in two apartments, one that of Ned Myers, and the other occupied by Anna Bludson.

The Bludson woman was the only one in the house at the time of the fire and managed to save, with the aid of West Monroe firemen, most of her belongings before the building was completely destroyed. It was of the type known as "shotgun" houses and the amount of damage was not given.

BROADENED TAX BASE APPROVED

ample votes to defeat La Follette's attempt to retain present exemption levels.

In informal conferences with their colleagues, the leaders asserted that Mr. Roosevelt was very anxious to see the lower exemptions approved. The chief executive recently urged a broader tax base in a letter to Chairman Doughton, Democrat, North Carolina, of the house ways and means committee. Although the president said that all Americans were willing to bear their share of the tax burden, the house failed to act.

La Follette, former advocate of a lower tax base, said yesterday that there was no justification for "dipping further into the poor man's income" until stiffer excess profits levies were imposed on corporations. Senator Clark, Democrat, Missouri, voiced similar criticism, and the two senators were expected to lead a vigorous fight against the projected reduction.

PRAVDA SAYS ENEMY CLOSE TO LENINGRAD

why this lack of information is necessary," the broadcast said. "But they also are aware of the fact that each time a campaign has been concluded, a detailed report was given."

The Russian and German high commands matched each other in secretiveness on the course of the war while the Finns, still comrades-in-arms of the Nazis, indicated that the defenders of Leningrad were being squeezed into a pivotal struggle for possession of that second largest city of Russia.

Said the Hitler headquarters:

"Operations in the east continue successfully."

Said the Red army:

"Fighting continued along the entire front during the night."

The language of the communiques, but for the fact that they frequently are silent on developments of utmost importance, might be taken to indicate that a Russian-German deadlock had been reached, that the vast battleline had been stabilized for the present at least.

Russian dispatches—not, however, with the full authority of a high command communique—insisted that the German thrust on Leningrad from the south had been checked and indicated that the Red air force and the luftwaffe were waging a battle for control of the air over the city.

Aerial superiority in the area may dictate the fate of Leningrad, northern anchor of the main Russian-German front.

The Helsinki picture of Leningrad's position was that Finnish troops were advancing from the north, separated by 40 miles from German forces attacking in the south, with Leningrad in the approximate center of the 40-mile vise.

Tass, indicating Russian control of the air at Leningrad, said the city was exhibiting "a spirit of firm composure" and that its industries were operating normally, supplying the Red army with materials necessary to defense.

Students were reported starting the fall semester at Leningrad's universities, theaters staging new productions and movie goers turning out in great numbers to see newsreels of action at the front.

The dispatch said that numerous detachments of the city guard had joined the Red army, determined to make the approaches to the city the graveyards of the Germans and Finns.

Military dispatches to Moscow on the center front action said that the Russian counter-offensive there was still being pushed aggressively, the Germans resisting fiercely but yielding locality after locality.

The Russians said that their foe resorted Tuesday to a "psychic attack" —a thrust by two companies of picked troops behind a military band—but this novelty ended in disaster.

The Germans came "as on parade, kettle drums rolling and base drums thundering," said the Russians, but they were met by "terrific fire from our machine-guns followed by a bayonet charge. The psychic attack ended in fiasco, both Nazi companies were annihilated."

While the German high command was virtually silent on the Russian campaign, DNB, official news agency, reported the crushing of an attempted landing from the Black sea, presumably to relieve beleaguered Odessa.

Five boatloads of Russians approached a German-held section of the coast on Tuesday but were turned back by machine-gun fire, the agency said, adding that another Russian attempt to recross the lower Dnieper river to the German-occupied west bank also had been frustrated by cross-river shellfire.

Luftwaffe blows on vital Russian communications deep within the Red army's lines were emphasized in German dispatches.

Most of the German communique was devoted to the air and sea war with Britain. It reported sinking of two British freighters totaling 10,000 tons, bombardment of port facilities of eastern England and a raid on the airport of Abu Sueir, on the Suez canal where direct hits were said to have destroyed runways and fired shelters and munition dumps.

The German navy and air force sank 537,000 tons of British merchant shipping in August, the high command added.

In the Mediterranean zone, the Italian high command reported eighteen British planes were shot down in an air battle over Sidi Barrani.

Triumphantly the Finnish high command announced recapture of the entire 60-mile strip of the Karelian isthmus which Finland lost to Russia in their 1939-40 war, and declared Russian troops had been driven back everywhere beyond the old frontier.

The old Russian-Finnish border is only 20 miles from Leningrad. The Germans have reported their advance forces a similar distance south of the city.

Partly counter-balancing the dark picture for the Russians conjured up by this situation, however, were reports from Moscow that the German push toward Leningrad had bogged down and that the Soviet air force was successfully fighting off Nazi attempts to gain control of the sky over the city.

Following up an assertion yesterday that German land forces in front of Leningrad had been driven back three miles, today's early morning Soviet communique told of fierce air battles in which the Russians were said to be more than holding their own.

There was little news from either Moscow or Berlin to clarify the situation on the central front or in the south, where the Germans and Rumanians are besieging the Black sea port of Odessa and testing out a new Russian defense line on the east bank of the Dniper river.

London reported the Finnish radio as saying German troops had captured Bryansk on the central front, some 220 miles southwest of Moscow and 150 miles northeast of Gomel, which fell to the Nazis more than a week ago. There was no immediate confirmation from other sources, however.

The ticklish far eastern situation, meanwhile, was highlighted by an Australian radio report that the first American tanker bearing aviation fuel to Soviet Russia had arrived safely at Vladivostok.

The shipment—expected to be the first of many—had been bitterly criticized by the Japanese press and was the subject of representations by the Tokyo government, which obviously is anxious lest the fuel be used against Japan in event of trouble with Russia.

The fact that Japan has been denied American aviation fuel has been an added source of irritation to the Japanese. Only today a government-backed Japanese paper declared the United States and Britain were trying to exhaust Japan's natural resources as part of an alleged plan for world domination.

The air war on the British-German front was marked by a continuation of R. A. F. night raids on the Nazi-occupied port of Brest. Only a few German bombers were reported over Britain.

JAPANESE TOLD U. S., BRITAIN SEEK TO RULE

Japanese cities could be subjected to air assaults similar to those delivered against Chungking and London.

Nevertheless, the report gave its readers advice on methods to combat incendiary bombs.

The newspaper Nichi Nichi, discussing the privy council's approval yesterday of an air defense bureau within the home ministry, said defense against air raids should be based on fire prevention.

"We should make a point in protecting our individual house," the paper said. "Never should we take refuge in air defense shelters or other safer zones. Instead we should be prepared to meet any situation squarely, put incendiaries out of action and prevent fires."

In the midst of the public disturbance over possible air raids, it was learned that Japanese stores were breaking away from centuries-old tradition by demanding cash for all purchases. It had been custom for householders to sign slips and settle them at the end of the month or even at the end of six months. One proprietor said he could no longer afford to give his customers credit because of air raid dangers.

Asahi reported from Yokohama that termination of leases held by foreign countries was expected next year.

The United States, Great Britair, Portugal, the Netherlands, France, Denmark, Switzerland, China, Germany, Italy and Soviet Russia hold tax-free approximately 3,200,000 square feet of ground in Yokohama, the paper said.

Promulgation of an imperial ordinance terminating the leases in April, 1942, was expected shortly, Asahi reported.

ASSERTS GASOLINE 'SHORTAGE' FAKED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—(AP)—A suggestion that threats of an eastern gasoline shortage had been planned in order to facilitate construction of a vast pipeline from Texas and Louisiana to the Atlantic seaboard was advanced today by Senator O'Daniel, Democrat, Texas, a member of the special senate committee investigating threatened shortages of gasoline and oil.

Asserting that hearings of the senate group "proved there is no shortage of petroleum or transportation to get the products to the east," O'Daniel suggested that the committee "try to develop what's back of this alleged shortage."

Ralph Budd, defense transportation advisor, had told the senate group that railroad tank cars could solve the shortage and had opposed construction of the huge new pipe line to carry oil from the Southwest to the East on the ground that all available steel was badly needed for ships, railroad cars and defense industries.

Questioning Budd, a railroad president in private life, Senator O'Daniel asked:

"I wonder if this shortage or emergency could have been planned in order to bring about authority to build this pipe line?"

"I wouldn't think anyone would do that," Budd replied, although earlier he had told the committee he had urged government officials not to construct the line.

Fair Enough

old 22nd street line or levee where he was bodyguard and talent scout for Mike Colosimo, the first man to apply chain-store methods to the brothel business, had net income of $199,473 in 1937 and $193,371 in 1938. This would have been a total of $392,845 for the two years or a net of about $3,777 a week but of course we are not to assume that the old wrangler derived all his loot out of the actual wages of the subjects who were delivered into his power by the American Federation of Labor and thus placed at his disposal in looting the city. On the contrary, Mike, like his old colleague, Willie Bioff of the movie trades, used his union for bargaining purposes on his own behalf. He kept ready-mix concrete out of Chicago, refusing to let his men handle the stuff and thus robbed the people of the economies which they might have enjoyed and he had an interest in a paving compound which was used instead of ready-mix concrete. In that respect, his method was like that of Umbrella Mike Boyle, the crooked boss of the Chicago electricians who embargoed the wares of certain manufacturers of electrical goods and thus was able to throw a good deal of business to a rival company in which he was a stockholder.

Mike Carrozzo was a crook of such notorious character that even in the careless and undiscriminating naturalization court he received two warnings that his application for citizenship would be denied on the ground of moral turpitude and all-around verminous character. The story of how he finally got by and received the precious right of American citizenship is one that I have never had time to run down but it interests me and perhaps one day I will have it in shape for telling.

His parent union was the International Hodcarriers and Common Laborers which has 250,000 members in many locals scattered around the country and which collects, mostly by extortion, from these ill-paid, horny-handed unfortunates a total of about $18,000,000 a year. Chicago was always a bad place in this International's total realm because from the earliest days of organization among the laborers there the union was a mob or gang concession and interference from the International was heartily repulsed. Finally, after years, the old president, Dominick D'Allesandro, died, and the new president, Joseph V. Moreschi, was selected from the Chicago field in 1926. He is remarkable in that he was actually a working laborer in his early days but his reign also refrained from interfering with Carrozzo with results that are now available for study in the files of the board of tax appeals.

It is of interest that neither William Green, Moreschi nor any other man in the entire leadership of the so-called labor movement, better to be described as the union racket, ever smelled the smell of Mike Carrozzo's batch of crooked onions or raised a finger to kick him out or otherwise protect the toiler from extortion and exploitation by this veteran rogue.

MANY ATTENDING CHURCH MEETINGS

The revival at Stone Avenue Methodist church, conducted by Rev. E. W. Scott of Clara, Miss., is being well attended. Rev. Scott is delivering a series of discourses on sin, its origin, purpose and power. Tuesday evening the sermon theme was, "The Power of Sin." Scripture selection was from the 5th chapter of Mark. Rev. Scott said in part, "Sin's origin was not in the Garden of Eden. It was in heaven, but was cast out, for no sin can remain in the presence of God. The purpose of sin is to get revenge on God. When we yield to sin, it separates us from God . . ." "The power of sin can neither be known nor estimated . . ." "Sin is an ever present thing in the human family. We cannot know the sin in our hearts. Only God and Satan know these things . . ." "Sin is a disease, and there is only one remedy or cure and that is God. He is the only Physician that can diagnose the case, but the diagnosis and remedy cannot help sinful man unless he will accept and apply the remedy."

Services daily at 10 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. The public is invited to attend these services. The church is located on the corner of Stone avenue and South Third street to prevent the Reds from reaching this area. However, at Sterlington, a detachment of the Red army—to be specific, the Third platoon of the Fourth Cavalry—was guarding the approaches to the bridge which spans the river there and which had been "dynamited" in the simulated warfare. The Red contingent reached Sterlington by way of Hamburg, Ark., and Bastrop.

The Red troops were advancing steadily through the night, and one officer predicted that there would be "fighting in the streets of Monroe" on Thursday. The Blues are defending the city, and soldiers of the Almats were much in evidence on the outskirts of the city last night, apparently prepared for the invasion of the Reds.

The army has asked that the exact position of troops not be published, but the Reds weren't far from the city. The Blues, however, were on the alert, and several hundred soldiers were concentrated at the forks of the Sterlington and Vicksburg highways. Some of the boys bedded down on or near the shoulders of the highway leading into the city.

Last night's foray wasn't without its humorous angles.

At the east approach to the Sterlington bridge an officer was talking to a World reporter. A sergeant rushed up and reported:

"The enemy is approaching in cars without lights, sir, and they're firing."

"To your posts, men," the lieutenant ordered, "and let 'em have it."

The men rushed to the sides of the road and awaited the approach of a car which had no lights, and it sounded as if a half dozen soldiers were firing rifles from it.

Suddenly the lieutenant shouted:

"Hell, he's not firing, he's backfiring."

And the automobile of ancient vintage passed by noisily but unmolested.

And there was the soldier who lost his hat.

During a skirmish between the Reds and the Blues, a member of the Blue army lost his hat. When he returned to his base his commanding officer told him to go back and get it. By that time, the umpires had ruled that the Blues were not supposed to be on that side of the river.

The young man, accompanied by several of his buddies, went back to retrieve his headpiece. They encountered a group of Reds and a mock battle ensued. A colonel happened up on the scene, called a halt to the whole thing and gave the offending soldier a dressing down for being out of place. But he saved his hat.

SOUTH REPORTS 248 NEW POLIO CASES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—(AP)—The South reported 248 new cases of infantile paralysis to the public health service in the week ending August 30. All other states had 311 cases in the same period.

Alabama led with 65. Georgia was second with 50. Other Southern reports included Tennessee 29, North Carolina 10, Maryland 32, Virginia 5, South Carolina 8, Florida 16, Kentucky 15, Mississippi 12, Arkansas 3 and Louisiana 3.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 4.—(AP)—Alabama Polytechnic Institute (Auburn) announced today it was postponing opening until September 15, upon advice of Dr. J. N. Baker, state health officer, who suggested that all institutions of higher learning delay beginning of 1941 terms because of an epidemic of infantile paralysis.

Opening of public schools was left in the hands of local educational and health authorities by Baker, but he said he considered colleges in a different class as their students come from all parts of the nation.

Huntingdon college, Montgomery; Alabama college, Montevallo, and Howard college, Birmingham, have postponed opening dates to September 15.

Meanwhile today, two new cases of infantile paralysis were reported, raising to 560 the number stricken since January 1, to 366 the number since August 1, and to 44 the number since September 1. There have been 42 deaths from the disease.

WEST MONROE CUTS OUT APPROPRIATION

The city council of West Monroe voted at its August session, held Wednesday night, to discontinue the monthly appropriation of $70 which has been in the past supplied toward the fund for operating expenses of the WPA sewing room in Monroe. This action was taken for the sake of economy, it was explained.

A tract of land was accepted and will be dedicated to the city of West Monroe for an extension of Ridge avenue. The donor of the property was the Monroe Building and Loan association.

Permits for the sale of beer at 118 Cotton street were rejected by the council.

The council voted to alter the city limits so that five or six building lots that have been purchased recently by the Bancroft Bag company will not be inside the municipality.

CONGRESS INVITED TO VISIT BRITAIN

LONDON, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Brendan Bracken, minister of information, today invited members of the United States congress to visit Britain to investigate use of lease-lend materials.

"I gladly accept the suggestion that members of the United States congress come to Britain to make their own inquiries on the use of lend-lease materials, and they would be under no obligation," Bracken said.

THE COLONEL AND LIEUTENANT TAKE A DUCKING

Members of the 108th combat engineers, Chicago, toss their commander, Colonel Karl Hobart (left), and Lieutenant Phil Clementz (right) into the Red river near Fulton, Ark., after completing a 658-foot pontoon bridge. The men started the job at 6:30 a.m., and the colonel and lieutenant told them they could throw them in the river if the bridge was finished before noon. The boys got to work fast—and before noon struck the job was done.

the men were discontent because they had not seen action.)

King said that "Britain without aid far greater than any yet in sight cannot win the war for freedom the world over. * * *

"We know today the war will be far longer, far harder, far more desperate if all free men do not rally to your side while you are at the fullness of your strength.

"It becomes daily clearer that resistance alone will not bring victory. Unless the whole resources, the total energy of the free world is thrown into the struggle, the war may drag on for years, carrying in its train famine, pestilence and horrors still undreamed of."

In every country, he said, "Hitlerism has found its most useful allies among those who believe they could save themselves by isolation and neutrality while others fought the battles of freedom."

The new world order, if it is to come after this war "can only be effected through the leadership of the British commonwealth of nations and the United States of America working in whole-hearted cooperation toward this great end," he added.

The prime minister also said that an armored division would be sent from Canada to join the two operational divisions already in England.

MAJOR POULSEN CLUB SPEAKER

Army Officer Says Louisiana Natural Place For Maneuvers

Major Niels I. Poulsen, army representative in charge of land agreement in Ouachita parish, was the principal speaker at the Y's Men's weekly luncheon at Hotel Frances Wednesday night.

He said that his work here has brought him in contact with people in all ranks of life and that he has met with remarkably fine cooperation. Many of the Y's Men's club members will be in the draft and are likely to be called to service soon, he said, but he assured that their association with the work of the Y's Men would render them able to understand and appreciate the meaning of the nation's defense program better than men who had not been so privileged.

Louisiana was selected quite naturally for army maneuvers, he said, as should real warfare result, it is quite probable that it will be fought to a large extent in South America. Louisiana is nearer than most states of the Union to South America, and also the climate, terrain and other characteristics are such as to coincide in many respects with those of South America.

The speaker indicated that as a supply base for the Second army, Monroe is a strategic point and bids fair to be heavily bombed during the progress of the maneuvers.

O. N. McNeil presented recorded greetings from the recently-held international convention in Memphis. The delegates to the convention will give their reports at next week's meeting.

AUDITS OF SHERIFF'S ACCOUNTS BARRED

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 4.—(AP)—Further audits by the state supervisor of public funds of the accounts of Sheriff Frank M. Edwards of Tangipahoa parish have been barred for the present under a decision handed down at Amite by District Judge Robert Ellis, Jr.

The court also required in another proceeding that Supervisor Jerome A. Hayes return to Sheriff Edwards certain records from the sheriff's office which Hayes contends disappeared in June while his auditors were investigating Edwards' accounts.

Hayes testified during a hearing that the records had been placed in a rolltop desk by his auditors who, after speaking with Sheriff Edwards regarding their investigation, later found the records had been removed from the desk. They are still missing.

Assistant State Attorney General W. C. Perrault said today that Judge Ellis has granted circuit court appeal actions in both cases. Hayes, who testified at the trial further audits were necessary to check apparent irregularities in the finances of the sheriff's office, has been charged by Edwards with criminal slander and destruction of his records.

Edwards contended in his testimony at Amite that he would refuse to allow any further audits and alleged he feared state police had planned to seize his office. The court in its ruling granted a preliminary injunction against seizing the sheriff's office or its records and from making any further audits until the next regularly scheduled investigations unless further special audits are "shown to be necessary."

LOUISIANA DEFENSE SHARE $178,314,000

DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 4.—(AP)—Louisiana's share in the national defense production campaign amounted to more than $178,314,000 August 1, according to compilations from the bureau of research and statistics, office of production management.

This total represents distribution of major defense contracts and allocations from June, 1940. In the total, procurement prime contracts and facilities projects for the war and navy departments, including defense plant corporation commitments, amounted to $127,610,000. Awards for the emergency ship program in Louisiana were $42,341,000. This, it was pointed out, excluded any share Louisiana might have in building 38 emergency vessels for which contracts were awarded May 29, 1941, and for which the costs are not yet available.

The Civil Aeronautics authority has awarded contracts for airport expansion in Louisiana amounting to $340,000. Awards for defense housing made by the public buildings administration were $1,695,000.

WPA expenditures on defense projects, from July 1, 1940, to June 30, 1941, totalled $4,555,000. Allotments made in Louisiana by the federal security agency, represented by the office of education and the NYA, for defense training projects, amounted to $1,773,000.

Under the war and navy procurement program a major part of Louisiana's share of contracts is for facilities, totalling $121,364,000. Contracts awarded for ship construction and equipment amount to $5,241,000, and for all other war and navy awards, $1,605,000.

GRANT FOR TRADE SCHOOL APPROVED

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 4.—(AP)—State Superintendent of Education John E. Coxe announced today federal approval of a $34,526 grant for additional equipment for the Baton Rouge defense trades school where workers are trained for shipbuilding, aircraft and machine tool industrial jobs.

A similar federal grant of $4,520 also has been granted for opening a new defense training school at Pineville where workers will be skilled to take positions as welders in New Orleans shipbuilding plants and at the Minden shell-loading plant.

MUST GET LEAVES EVERY THREE MONTHS

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 4.—(AP)—Under an ancient state law officials of Louisiana who leave their positions to serve in the United States armed forces must get leaves of absence from the governor every three months.

Granting of the leaves is discretionary with the governor and each time one is obtained, the secretary of state's office charges a dollar as its legally prescribed fee for issuing the certificates.

Secretary of State James Gremillion reported today that the number of leaves granted in recent months had greatly increased because of the number of state and parochial officials joining the army or navy for tours of active duty.

For all but one type of officials 90 days is the maximum length of time the governor may permit leaves of absence under the 1871 statute governing the matter, though renewals may be obtained. The exception is the eight-month maximum leave allowed notaries public.

The secretary of state's office explained the law governing leaves of absence had been largely ignored in the past, but even now officials are not required to obtain leaves when intending to leave their jurisdictional sections on purely official business.

Birthday Party And Reunion Coincide

Jameson Family Holds Reunion For First Time In Twenty-Five Years

It was some birthday party that Tommy Jameson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Conner Jameson of Jacksonville, Fla., had when the reunion of the Jameson family happened to fall on the same day as his sixth birthday. A gathering which reunited members of the family for the first time in twenty-five years was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Sumrall on Park avenue September 1. Descendants of one of Monroe's oldest families were together for a day of story-telling, reminiscing, and festivity.

The heads of the family were the Rev. and Mrs. J. D. Jameson, both now deceased. Mrs. Jameson was before her marriage Miss Ida Conner, daughter of a prominent pioneer Monroe family. Her father was an outstanding contractor in this territory, and was the one who contracted to build the old courthouse. Reverend Jameson moved to Monroe prior to his marriage and lived here the rest of his life.

Many descendants of this couple still live in Monroe and nearby cities, and they were joined by members of the family who had moved away for the reunion.

Dinner was served in the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Sumrall from long tables creaking under the weight of good things to eat. A feature of the meal was the bringing out of a mammoth birthday cake holding six condles, celebrating Tommy Jameson's birthday.

Members of the family who met here for the day were Mr. and Mrs. Conner Jameson and son, Tommy, of Jacksonville, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Jameson and children, Nellie and Charles, of Kansas City, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Jameson of Shreveport, La.; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Fazina of Shreveport, La.; Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Sumrall; Mr. and Mrs. James Thomas; Mrs. Edward Endom; Miss Mary Stahl of Shreveport, La.; Judge Charles Schulze; Mrs. Estelle Conner Keller; Dr. and Mrs. G. M. G. Stafford of Baton Rouge, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Culpepper, Sr.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Culpepper, Jr.; and Mrs. Clyde Saunders.

Members of the family who were unable to attend were Mrs. James Sumrall and Edward Endom, both because of illness.

A dinner characterized by charming informality and intimacy was that with which Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Morrison entertained a few friends recently.

The table was serviced with heirloom silver and china and had a centerpiece of sweet peas mixed with fern. Guests were Captain W. K. Cleaver, Rev. and Mrs. L. T. Hastings and D. C. Black.

Miss Mary Jane Kellogg of Memphis, Tenn., recent guest of Miss Mary Stuart Kellogg, was entertained at luncheon at the Virginia hotel by Walter Kellogg.

She wore a yellow linen dress and a corsage of tube roses. Her hostess wore a navy blue summer sheer frock.

Mixed garden flowers in attractive arrangements graced the table from which Miss Merilyn Bush, Miss Barbara Faulk, Miss Byrnie Handy, Miss Mary Stuart Kellogg, Miss Mary Jane Kellogg and Mr. Kellogg dined.

Sheridan Wagner, who is stationed with the navy in San Diego, Calif., is dividing a furlough leave between his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Wagner, of Oak Grove, and his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Lanny Doitch, of Monroe.

Mrs. J. W. Musselwhite, Mrs. B. N. Barron and Miss Nell Moore have returned from Longview, Tex., where they visited relatives and friends.

Felix Andrew Terzia III has left Monroe for Marion, Ala., where he will attend Marion institute. He was accompanied on the trip by his mother, Mrs. Felix A. Terzia, and sister, Miss Clara Virginia Terzia.

Circus, Like A Newspaper, Must Keep Apace Of Times

Some of the many and varied features offered this season by Russell Bros.' great American circus.

In its appeal to people of all classes and all ages, the modern circus is found to have much in common with the modern newspaper, as will be demonstrated when Russell Bros.' Greater American Circus appears at the Plum street show grounds in Monroe, Monday, September 8.

The circus manager arranges his performance with much the same motives that an editor plans the contents of his columns. Corresponding to the general run of wire, cable and local news are certain standard acts such as the elephants, performing horses, acrobats and aerial performers. Analogous to the regular departments—the weather reports, market quotations, box scores and the like—are the menagerie, side show and refreshment stands, which are indispensable to any major circus. And, just as each newspaper has its exclusive features such as the writings of its crack columnists and special correspondents, so does a circus such as Russell Bros. boasts certain distinctive acts and features not carried by any other show.

The exciting events of the wild west exhibition may be compared to the sport pages, and the clowns serve the same function in the circus as comic strips in a newspaper.

Circuses and newspapers, to hold the public's interest, must keep apace of the times, both in mechanical and physical innovations, and with reference to shifting trends and tastes. Russell Bros.' Circus was one of the first to modernize its methods of transportation, and it gives special attention to presenting a performance of highly concentrated entertainment, paced to appeal to present-day crowds.

Performances are presented at 2 and 8 p. m., with doors opening at 1 and 7 p. m.

YANKS MAY CLINCH AMERICAN LOOP FLAG TODAY

OTHER LEAGUE CLUBS SURELY MUST TREMBLE

Thought Of World Series Certain To Give National Winner Chill

By Judson Bailey
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The New York Yankees may clinch their American League pennant today—their fifth championship in six years—and the dawdlers over in the National League must be trembling at the thought of the forthcoming world series.

The Yanks are in Boston and need only one more victory to figuratively sew the big bunting onto their flagpole. They may not get it today, of course, baseball being the mystery it is, but the outcome is inevitable.

They squeezed the Red Sox through a 2-1 eleven-inning wringer yesterday to assure themselves of no worse than a tie. They have won 90 games and lost 45. If they lost every one of their remaining 19 contests they still would have only 64 defeats—the same number that Boston and the Chicago White Sox, tied for second place, already have.

The latter clubs are 19 1-2 games behind the leaders, and the Cleveland Indians, who were seven proud games in front of the Yanks on May 25, today are 22 1-2 back and threatened even with the loss of their place in the first division.

The Yanks made a sluggish start, as everyone remembers, with a revamped lineup that had Joe Gordon on first base and a rookie keystone combination of Phil Rizzuto and Gerry Priddy. By the middle of May Manager Joe McCarthy knew he couldn't win the pennant with that setup.

He switched Gordon back to second base, where he is the best in the game, and from that time on the bombers started booming. By June 28 they were in first place to stay and they did stay. Joe DiMaggio embarked on his record hitting streak of 56 consecutive games and the parade was on.

Today, if the Yanks nail down their flag, it will be with both these Joe's, McCarthy and DiMaggio, absent from the scene. The manager was left behind in a Washington hospital for treatment of a gall bladder ailment and DiMaggio was dropped off at home to recover from an ankle injury.

Their part in getting the Yanks to the top won't be overlooked, however, and both are expected to rejoin the club in New York this week-end.

The Yanks were nearly given the works by Broadway Charley Wagner of the Red Sox yesterday. They were held to seven hits and it took Tom Henrich's 27th homer in the eighth inning to throw the game into extra innings and give New York a chance to win in the 11th when Red Rolfe hit into a force play with the bases loaded, scoring one run.

Big Ernie Bonham pitched scoreless ball for six innings in rebuttal and Boston's only run came on a triple by Pete Fox and a single by Joe Cronin in the seventh.

Meanwhile the Brooklyn Dodgers blew a bountiful opportunity to take the National League lead away from the St. Louis Cardinals, who were kept idle by rain.

Brooklyn had a doubleheader with the last place Phillies and won the first game 4-1 with Whit Wyatt pitching a four-hitter for his 19th victory. Then Manager Leo Durocher gambled on a young righthander named Ed Albosta, who reported two days before from Durham of the Piedmont league. The Phils gave him a going over to win the nightcap 4-1 with Frank Hoerst pitching four-hit ball and blanking Brooklyn till the ninth. This put the Dodgers four percentage points instead of two behind the Cards.

Pittsburgh beat Cincinnati 3-2 in a night game although Elmer Riddle held the Pirates to six hits. The only runs the Reds could get for their mound ace came on a homer by Ernie Lombardi in the seventh.

Washington whipped the Philadelphia Athletics 9-8 with a five-run rally in the ninth after the A's had bunched five in the eighth. Philadelphia made seven errors.

DODGERS MUFF THEIR CHANCE TO PASS CARDS

Brooklyn Divides Twin Bill With Phillies By Identical Scores, 4-1

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 4.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers muffed a beautiful chance to take over first place in the National league Wednesday by dividing a double header with the last place Phillies while the St. Louis Cardinals were kept idle by rain.

Whitlow Wyatt won the first game for Brooklyn, all right, 4 to 1 with a fine 4-hit performance. But Manager Leo Durocher decided the second game was an auspicious place for a youngster named Ed Albosta to make his major league debut and the result was a triumph for the tail-enders by the identical score, 4 to 1, also on a four-hit pitching show by Frank Hoerst.

The Dodgers were in first for a couple of hours by one percentage point, but at the conclusion of the day's labor they had lost a little bit of ground instead of gaining a lot.

They were left with 85 victories and 47 defeats for a .644 percentage compared to the Cardinals' 83-45 and .648. Thursday, when the Dodgers have another chance at the Phils, the Redbirds will have a double header with the Cubs at Chicago.

Wyatt's triumph was his 19th and tied him with teammate Kirby Higbe for the most victories in the senior circuit.

Rookie Outfielder Edward Perry Stewart, up from San Diego, was the Pirate hero. He drove in the first Pittsburgh run off Elmer Riddle in the

BROWN TACKLES SPORTS

The Brown Paper mill Brownies face the Springhill Sports at Brown park this afternoon at 4 o'clock, and if Manager Jack Bagwell's Browns can win they will cinch a place in the Ouachita Valley league's championship series.

The locals are barely in fourth place and only half a game out of third place. The Hodge Advanceers have first place in the bag, and Springhill is sure of the second spot.

Crossett is just half a game ahead of Brown in third place, and the Camden club is close behind in fifth.

Jimmy Dunn of Camden, president of the league, has announced the playoff will begin September 14 with the first team playing the fourth place club, and second and third clubs battling in the other side of the series.

Hodge will get the series opener in their own lot, but the site of the playoff between second and third place clubs will be decided by a flip of a coin, Dunn announced.

Truman "Wildman" Mayes or LeRoy Elliott will be called upon by Manager Bagwell to hurl for the locals today.

World Series Scheduled To Get Under Way Oct. 1

Landis Draws Up 2 Programs To Care For Dodger, Card Situation

By Judson Bailey

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—(AP)—A normal World Series program opening Wednesday, October 1, at Yankee stadium was laid out Wednesday by Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis after he had overruled a proposal to tailor-make a schedule for a possible contest between the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Yankees.

The one innovation included in this year's setup is provision for a one-day intermission between the sixth and seventh games should the series go the limit. This was decided upon to allow adequate time for a ticket sale for the final game.

Actually two schedules were drawn up, following a similar pattern, to cover either the Dodgers or the St. Louis Cardinals as the National league representative in the series.

For the Dodgers it would be:

Games 1 and 2 at Yankee stadium October 1 and 2; games 3, 4 and 5 at Ebbets field October 3, 4 and 5; game at Yankee stadium October 8.

For the Cardinals:

Games 1 and 2 at Yankee stadium October 1 and 2; games 3, 4 and 5 at Sportsman's park, St. Louis, October 4, 5 and 6; game 6 at Yankee stadium October 8; game 7 at Yankee stadium October 10.

The latter schedule includes a day for travel each way between New York and St. Louis in addition to the intermission before the final game, should it be necessary.

All games will start at 1:30 p. m., local time, i. e., eastern standard time in New York or central standard time in St. Louis.

Ticket prices will be the same as in the past, $6 for box seats, $5 for reserved seats, $3 for general admission and $1 for bleacher seats, plus tax in each case. St. Louis has a 3 per cent state and 2 per cent city tax on tickets in addition to the 10 per cent federal tax.

President Larry MacPhail of the Dodgers suggested that the schedule be altered, in case Brooklyn won the National league pennant, so that the first game would be played in Yankee stadium, the next two at Ebbets field, and then the Saturday and Sunday games back at the stadium.

But this suggestion was immediately rejected because Landis said the same order of games would have to apply to either Brooklyn or St. Louis in order to allow for preparation or distribution of tickets. No proposal for transferring the games out of Ebbets field was offered.

Only the Yankees of the American league were represented at the meeting, but the third-place Cincinnati Reds as well as the Cardinals and Dodgers of the National league sent representatives.

Should the Reds, by some miracle, retain the National league pennant the schedule arranged for the Dodgers would apply for them.

PLAYER SUSPENDED FOR ASSAULT UPON SCORER

DURHAM, N. C., Sept. 4.—(AP)—In what is believed to be the first case of its kind, Fred Shoemaker, a player on the Oil City club in the Pennsylvania State league, has been suspended from organized baseball for one year for an assault upon an official scorer.

Judge W. G. Bramham, president of the National association, said Shoemaker admitted in a written statement he spit in the face of Joe Szarfan, Oil City newspaperman who was serving as official scorer at a game on August 7. The two had argued over whether a ball hit by a player was an error or a hit. Szarfan ruled it an error.

Judge Bramham said baseball had no jurisdiction over baseball writers as such, but did when they served as official scorers. The suspension is retroactive August 8.

BIG TAM O'SHANTER GOLF EVENT BEGINS

CHICAGO, Sept. 4.—(AP)—The big Tam O'Shanter gold rush gets under way Thursday morning, and the way it looks to Ben Hogan, leading money-winner of the 1941 golfing campaign, a man is going to have to beat par for 72 holes by at least 10 strokes to win.

Hogan, no slacker when it comes to bettering the average figures on a golf course, cracked the Hershey Country club's par by 17 strokes last week while running his earnings to $13,933. Thursday through Sunday he will have a chance to add another $2,000 to his kitty.

The Tam O'Shanter open is the biggest thing in golfing this year. In fact, it's been many a season since $11,000, enough to provide cash for the 30 high pros, has been offered.

The championship field of 187 will play 18 holes Thursday, another 18 Friday, and then the low 85 and ties will match strokes in 18-hole rounds Saturday and Sunday.

The new Boeing Seattle going to the British has four super-charged engines, 36,600-foot ceiling, cruising range of 3,500 miles and a top speed of more than 300 miles an hour.

BILLIES BLANK WHITE SOX IN SERIES FINAL

Helena, Greenville Still In Race With Hill City For Series Spots

VICKSBURG, Miss., Sept. 4.—(Special)—A four-run blast on four hits and a base on balls in the first inning kept the Vicksburg Hill Billies in the thick of the battle for a place in the Cotton States' championship series as they shut out the Monroe White Sox, 1941 pennant winners, 4 to 0, in the final of a three-game series here Wednesday night.

But the Bills still have the Sox to face again Thursday night at Monroe and the participants in the playoff, other than Monroe and Hot Springs, won't be decided until after the last of the season's scheduled games Thursday.

A photo finish is evident with Greenville, Vicksburg and Helena racing almost neck-and-neck to get under the wire and into the playoff. The order in which the clubs finish will hinge almost completely on the outcome of Thursday's double header between Greenville and Helena, and another Vicksburg victory over Monroe would be a big help to the locals. Helena and Greenville were rained out Wednesday.

There is a possibility that Greenville and Helena will have to do some post season playing before reaching the playoffs. Helena has played only 136 games, according to the standings, and Thursday's pair would make 138, two games short of 140, and the 'Porters would have to go back over the route somewhere and make up postponed games if they stand a chance after the Greenville battles.

Likewise, Greenville will be one game short of 140 after the twin bill. If Helena should win both tilts that postponed game the Bucks still have may come in handy.

The Hill Billies have played all their games to date.

The game here Thursday night

'TAITT NIGHT' HERE

The Monroe White Sox, with their third consecutive pennant tucked away, triumphantly return to Casino park tonight for their schedule final with the Vicksburg Hill Billies at Casino park at 8 o'clock.

Monroe baseball fans, club officials and players will grasp the occasion to publicly honor Manager Doug "Poco" Taitt in recognition for his work in keeping Monroe in the thick of the Cotton States campaign for four straight years.

The "Taitt Night" program will again find club officials letting the bars down on admission prices, and adults will be admitted for 20 cents, children for ten cents and negroes for 15 cents.

The championship series begins here Saturday night with Monroe meeting either Greenville, Vicksburg or Helena, depending on which team finishes in fourth place after tonight's battles.

As soon as the Sox' finish the playoffs Manager Taitt will open a baseball school at the park here for prospective talent between 17 and 23 years of age. Boys making good at the school will be refunded any expenses accumulated while attending. It is planned to conduct the school for two weeks and all interested are urged to enroll with Manager Taitt as soon as possible.

WATER SHOW'S PLANS READY

Outboard Motor Racing To Feature Carnival; $500 In Prizes

Monroe and West Monroe have had their water sports before, but the river carnival here Sunday afternoon will surpass all other events of its kind in this section of the state, according to Howard Griffin, local water sport enthusiast, who is aiding in promotion of the event which will probably become an annual affair.

Outboard motor racers from Mississippi, Arkansas, Texas and various sections of Louisiana are already filing entries for the races which will be run in eight classes.

The races will be so arranged that thrills will pile up as the events progress because of the fact that the faster boats will be run in the last events. The various classes are determined by motor sizes and the slower boats, plenty fast themselves, will start the show. Races between boats of increasing speeds will be run until the final event, the Class C races, featuring boats capable of averaging 60 miles an hour.

Entertainment between races will be provided by local surfboard and water ski riders. State Senator James A. Noe, Jimmy Noe, Jr., and Miss Helena Hayward are listed as the exhibitionists in the surfboard events. Curtis Smith and Douglas Smith will ride the water skis, and Douglas, no relation to Curtis, frequently makes leaps of 20 feet.

Prizes amounting to $500 have been donated for the racing events by civic clubs and merchants of Monroe and West Monroe, and plans are being made to accommodate between 5,000 and 7,000 people. There will be no charge to witness the show.

A loudspeaker system is being installed on the river bank at the rear of the 800 block of South Grand street and that vicinity of the shore is being cleaned of all underbrush.

Captain G. B. Cooley's boat will serve as the judges' stand, and all river craft of Monroe and west Monroe, after participating in a parade preceding the races, will tie up on the west side of the stream.

M'NEILL GOES TO SEMI-FINAL

ankie Kovacs Also Advances In National Amateur Tennis Tourney

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Defending Champion Don McNeill of Oklahoma City looked like anything but a has-been Wednesday as he knocked determined Wayne Sabin out of the National tennis championships at Forest Hills by scores of 6-3, 7-5, 3-6, 6-3.

The blond star rapidly is becoming the sensation of the tournament, as a matter of fact. He appeared Wednesday to have regained completely the blazing forecourt game that carried him to victory a year ago, and even his closest friends admitted it was about time.

McNeill, up to the championships, had been playing amazingly indifferent tennis for a top-notcher, getting knocked off in one meet after another until, when it came time to seed the players for the big show itself, the tournament committee was forced to drop him to third place, behind both Bobby Riggs and Frank Kovacs.

Perhaps that was the spurt the Oklahoma boy needed, for he has become steadily more brilliant in winning each of his first four tilts, and at many points against Sabin Wednesday he brought prolonged applause from a crowd of 6,000 in the stadium.

The triumph brought McNeill through to the semi-finals, in which he will encounter Kovacs on Friday. Kovacs, the Oakland stylist was never extended Wednesday in eliminating young John Kramer of Montebello, Calif., 6-4, 7-5, 7-5, despite the apparently close score.

In the other men's quarter-finals Thursday, Bobby Riggs will face Frankie Parker and Bryan Grant, Jr., will attempt to score his third straight upset at the expense of Ted Schroeder, seeded No. 4.

Pauline Betz, of Los Angeles and Margaret Osborne of San Francisco accompanied each other into the semi-finals of the women's championships, Miss Betz defeating Barbara Krase of San Francisco, 6-2, 6-2, and Miss Osborne scoring a surprising one-sided victory over Helen Bernhard of New York City, 6-3, 6-1.

CLEVELAND RAMS SMASH ALL-STARS

CLEVELAND, Sept. 4.—(AP)—The heavier Cleveland Rams smashed to a top-heavy 37-to-7 triumph before 30,000 fans in Cleveland Stadium Wednesday night over an all-star team drawn mainly from Midwestern universities.

With Parker Hall uncorking a 15-yard dash to set up one touchdown for Gaylon Smith, and with Marty Slovak sprinting 56 yards for another, the National Professional Leaguers ran up a 24-to-0 half-time edge and coasted to victory amid a flurry of fisticuffs.

The All-Stars' only score came in the third period against the Rams' third team. Johnny Knolla, 180-pound back from Creighton, who spent most of the evening tossing the leather, uncorked a long pass from behind his 31.

Carl Estenik, representing his hometown John Carroll University, gathered it in on the Rams' 45 and with some exceptional broken field running escaped from two groups of would-be Ram tacklers and crossed the pay stripe at full speed.

KICKIN' AROUND

Bud Ward tabs 24-year-old Lou Jennings from Portland as the lad most likely to take his amateur golf crown away. . . . Hollywood's first reports on Billy Conn's picture are so good the movie men are inviting him out to make another. . . . Is this Joe Cronin's last year of shortstopping? . . . And is that why the Red Sox whisper confidentially Johnny Pesky will be up from Louisville to take over the short field next season? . . . Porter's Cap, the west coast choice to knock off Whirlaway last spring, has gone so stale Charley Howard is turning him out to pasture. . . . Bill Terry rushed out to Memphis this week when he heard his son was sick. . . .

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Art Cohn, Oakland, Calif., Tribune: It is significant that only 67 of the 13,500 students enrolled at the University of California were sufficiently interested to go out for the football squad. This is even less than one-half of one per cent, which, if you were around during prohibition, is a helluva per cent.

NOTES TO YOU

The Yanks are mighty interested in Milo Candini, their Kansas City farm hand, since he blinded their Sunday sluggers with that one-hit exhibition elbowing job last week. . . . You can look for the fight game's neatest job of cleaning house next year when Abe Greene is the N. B. A. prexy. . . . And if you think the boys are daffy with that football stuff in this hot weather, a dispatch just in announces the start of the basketball season in the Philippines. . . . Biggie Goldberg, the old Pitt All-America, has about decided not to come back to pro football. . . . He and Solly Sherman, the Bears' quarterback, work for Solly's pa-in-law and are doing right well. . . . The Cubs are bringing Lou Novikoff back as soon as Milwaukee finishes its season.

WHO'S NUTZ NOW?

The day before Lon Warneke tossed his no-hitter, he told the Chicago News' John Carmichael: "All the developments in this game in the last ten years favor the hitters. . . . The ball's so much like a golf ball, you can bunt it outa the park."

Hundreds of Boston fans getting ready to head for the southland to see Boston college and Holy Cross footballers do their stuff in Louisiana this fall. . . . When the Cubs gave Charley Root that "day," Prexy Phil Wrigley tossed Grandpa Charley a check for $2,273.19—representing one per cent of what he has earned pitching for the club for 15 years. . . . Alex Carrasquel teaches the boys and girls in Venezuela the conga and the rhumba when he's not busy dealing 'em off the arm for the Senators. . . . The Sporting News points out there will be national baseball, fishermen's, golf and tennis weeks in '42. . . . Hows about one for the good old sports writers? . . . Fritzie Zivic signed to tangle with Melt Aron in Pittsburgh September 14 'cause he was convinced Red Cochrane was giving him the run around for a return welterweight title go.

was one of the best played in Vicksburg this season and developed into a pitchers' duel after the first inning.

Theo Hoemann, big Monroe righthander, allowed only two hits after the disastrous first inning, and Ed Clement, local righthander, pitched three-hit ball over the full route. Clement didn't issue a single base on balls and only three Sox, Dale Englehorn, Guy Pruitt and Charles Bowles, ever reached first base.

Pat Henry, bought by the Bills from Greenville, started Vicksburg's victory march with a home run after one was out and that blow alone was enough to cinch the game, but the Bills pushed three more runs across before the inning was over Ray Zimmerman was given a base on balls. Clary Hack singled, and a single by Hal Lee sent Zimmerman across the plate. Freddie Reinhart followed with a double down the third base line to score both Hack and Lee.

BODY OF FLYING CADET IS DISCOVERED IN SWAMP

MOBILE, Ala., Sept. 4.—(AP)—A body identified as that of Flying Cadet Albert Horsfall of Exeter, N. H., was found in Mobile river swamps late Wednesday by coast guardsmen and army officers who have been searching the area since Horsfall disappeared from a Maxwell Field training flight early last Saturday.

Army officials attached to Brookley Field here said the body was still strapped to the cockpit of the plane, which had been sighted Tuesday night by the searching party.

END JIM M'LEOD REPORTS FOR WORK WITH BENGALS

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 4.—(AP)—Jim McLeod, promising Louisiana State university sophomore end, reported for practice Wednesday, partially easing Coach Bernie Moore's line worries.

Charles Petty, another highly-regarded sophomore end, will be out of the first few games as a result of an emergency appendectomy.

Russell Foti, a guard and another previous absentee, also put in an appearance Wednesday and Moore said he was generally satisfied with progress.

"We are much farther advanced than usual at this time of the year," he said. "Thanks to fairly cool weather, we've been putting in four hours a day of practice and the boys are beginning to ask when they'll scrimmage."

GIANTS DEFEAT ALL-STARS 23-3

Grid Aces, Many 'Name' Players, Show Lack Of Teamwork

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Piling up their points through one sustained drive, a forward pass, an intercepted pass and a 32-yard field goal, the New York Giants of the National league soundly walloped the Eastern college All-Stars, 23-3, in a benefit football game before a capacity crowd of 54,279 at the Polo Grounds Wednesday night.

It was a punchless ball game which saw the professionals gain revenge for their 1940 defeat by another All-Star crew, and it was just that chiefly because the stars lacked cohesion of offense.

They had individual backfield stars in Frank Reagan of Pennsylvania, slim Charley O'Rourke of Boston college and Len Eshmont of Fordham. But they had only two sustained marches, one of 56 yards that stopped on the Giants' one-yard line, and another of 36 that only set a 36-yard field goal by Jim Castiglia of Georgetown.

Both drives came in the first half, and in the entire second half the best the lads fresh out of college could show was one fine 28-yard sprint by Reagan. He faked a kick, sucked the pros in, then went wide behind Eshmont's blocking to the Giant 44 for the stars' only penetration into Giant territory during the full two quarters.

It was in these two periods that the stars went badly to pieces. Expected to do well because their roster included so many highly-rated players from so many of 1940's top Eastern teams, they muffed signals, threw passes hit and miss and constantly found themselves in jams.

WAVE GETS LONG DRILLS; TITTLE, MULLIN AILING

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 4.—(AP)—The Tulane Greenies Wednesday went through two long practice sessions under perfect weather conditions but two of the players were on the sick list.

Jack Tittle, 200-pound guard, was down with a fever, and "Moon" Mullin, end, suffered a foot injury when he was stepped on in practice. Trainer Monk Simons said an X-ray may have to be taken to determine if any bones were broken.

NEW YORK STOCKS

By Victor Eubank

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—(AP)—The stock market today remained under the handicap of stalemate atmosphere and prices generally ed bit lower.

Steels were slow to open and slanted downward from the outset. Rails, aircrafts and other departments followed.

Dealings continued at a low level, totaling about 500,000 shares for the 5-hour stretch.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Leading stocks again inclined toward lower ground in today's market.

Prices were narrowly mixed at the opening and little change occurred until the steels and rails started to slip. Some coppers, specialties and shipbuilding issues were resistant altough losses were in the majority near midday. Transfers were light.

Moderately under water a good part of the time were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, Youngstown, Chrysler, Boeing, United Aircraft, Martin, Westinghouse, Southern Railway, Santa Fe, Pennsylvania and Southern Pacific. Given occasional support were Kennecott, Phelps-Dodge, Union Carbide, Air Reduction, Lockheed and N. Y. Shipbuilding reached new year's highs.

Commodities were mixed and bonds shaded lower.
